German Democracy On Way Back

—Over 3 In. At Firth, Pleasant Dale, Wymore— Southeast Rivers Up Following Downpours

No Serious Flooding Expected Along Swollen Big Blue And Little Blue

Heavy week-end rains, ranging up to 3.35 inches at Firth, drenched Nebraska and Monday brought warnings of some overflow along both the Big Blue and Little Blue rivers in the southeast.

Although the Republican river was running bankful at Bloomington and Guide Rock, the crest was believed reached in those spots. The river hit its peak of nine feet and five inches at Guide Rock Sunday night, where the flood stage is 10 feet.

The rain was general over the state, but was heaviest in the southern half.

The weather bureau at Lincoln said the Big Blue was expected to reach 19.50 feet at Barneston Monday afternoon. Flood stage there is 18 feet. However, at noon the river was still within its banks. The town itself is not endangered.

Await Crest

On the Little Blue at Endicott a stage of 10.3 feet is expected at midnight. Mayor Harry Bakewell told The Star Monday night that the river there is not causing any trouble as yet. The Little Blue flows south of Endicott and an overflow would not threaten the town. Flood stage is nine feet.

At Firth, the 3.35 inch rainfall caused no serious flooding. According to Ray G. Sell, Firth petroleum company manager, water is standing in some fields, but country roads around the town are open to traffic. The rain, which began Sunday afternoon and continued until after midnight, had failed to lift the level of the Big Nemaha's middle branch west of Firth, he said.

Lincoln received its heaviest rain of 1.85 over the week end. Of the total 1.79 fell Sunday and Sunday night. Beatrice was drenched with 2.14 inches as small creeks in that area caused minor flooding. Davey in Lancaster county reported two inches, but there was no flooding in Lancaster county.

3.20 At Wymore

The Sutton, Wymore areas were drenched with more than three inches of rain over the week-end. Heaviest fall was at Wymore where the rainfall measured 3.20 inches.

Although the new moisture was expected to delay spring planting, farmers hailed the week-end rains as a "big boom" for the winter wheat.

Other Sunday rain reports included 3 inches at Pleasant Dale, 1.50 at Denton, 1.35 at Raymond, 1.15 at Malcolm, and 1.13 at Hickman and Sprague, all in Lancaster county.

Clay county, Edgar reported four inches of moisture since Thursday. Over two inches fell Saturday night and Sunday. Burlington and Rock Island railroads reported no train delays or track trouble from the rain.

The Burlington dispatcher's office said reports received from divisions indicated the spring rain had generally soaked into the soil and had not run off dangerously. One-half to two inches of rain was reported for the last 24 hours to the office on lines from Lincoln to Omaha, Red Cloud to Napier, Table Rock to Lincoln, and Wymore to Crete.

The largest part of this balance comes from the state assistance fund, where an estimated $2,500,000 is being re-appropriated. Payments for those on assistance will be increased on the basis of a bill passed by this session.

Amendments Approved

On general file the legislature approved amendments to LB 340, which permits payroll deductions so that employees of the state university can purchase insurance with the saving through group buying. Existing retirement provisions are not affected.

LB 543 was also advanced. It provides that public power and irrigation districts may purchase retirement insurance for employees. LB 545, a corrective measure advanced, provides that hearings by county boards are only necessary when there is a question on financial responsibility of relatives of relief applicants.

DWIGHT S. DALBEY

Dwight Dalbey Dies; Noted Agriculturist

Former Legislator, N. U. Benefactor

BEATRICE, Neb. — Dwight S. Dalbey, 71-year-old extensive landowner in this area and former state legislator, died at his home Saturday after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday at the Presbyterian church.

His land holdings include 5,800 acres in Gage and Pawnee counties, Nebraska, and about a thousand acres in Illinois.

Land To N. U.

Several years ago, he gave the University of Nebraska a section of virgin prairie near Virginia. The land is used for experimental purposes by the college of agriculture and for a study of native grasses.

As a member of the Nebraska legislature from 1915 to 1921, he was speaker of the house for three terms. He was appointed state secretary of finance under Governor Adam McMullen, serving for two years.

A native of Taylorville, Ill., he was educated in the University of Illinois where he received his B. S. degree in 1902. Later he was a member of the university's faculty as an instructor in agronomy.

Coming to Beatrice in 1907, he managed the extensive land interests of his father-in-law, Ford Lewis, in this area.

Active Civic Leader

A progressive agriculturist, Mr. Dalbey was also prominent in public affairs. He was a member of the county board of supervisors for three terms. He was a past president of the Beatrice Y.M.C.A., the library board of the Cornhusker Highway association and the Nebraska State Historical society.

Surviving are a sister, Mrs. Louise Dawson, a niece, Mary Dawson, both of Riverside, Ill., and a nephew, Dr. Dwight Dawson, Denver. His wife died in 1941.

Actor Robert Walker To Resume His Career

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Robert Walker, boyish-looking actor who wound up in a psychiatric clinic after several battles with policemen, is completely recovered and will resume his career, so says his studio.

The young actor has been under treatment for six months at the Menninger clinic in Topeka, Kas. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer officials said yesterday that Walker will return here next week. He is slated to start work next month on a movie with Deborah Kerr and Peter Lawford.

Service Is Answer To Health Plan

State Dentists Told At Opening Annual Convention

"The solution to the problem of adequate dental and medical care for the American people is not in the compulsory health insurance program—it can only be solved by the profession," Dr. Paul G. Ludwick, Lincoln, president of the Nebraska State Dental association, said Monday.

He addressed the opening session of the 81st annual meeting of the association at the Cornhusker hotel. About 300 persons are expected to attend the three-day convention.

Render Best Service

"We must strive to render the best and most complete dental service humanly possible," Dr. Ludwick continued.

"If we do not, we can expect only one answer. The public will be influenced by those who threaten our national security by attempting to provide a service in some other way."

"I call upon every member of our association to render the best dental service possible and to give our patients the consideration they so justly deserve," he concluded.

The morning session was opened with the invocation by Dr. C. Vin White, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Lincoln. Mayor Clarence G. Miles welcomed the group to the city and greetings also were extended from the Nebraska State Medical association by its president, Dr. J. D. McCarthy.

Plaque to Dr. Ludwick

Following the president's address, Dr. Ludwick was presented a plaque from the state association in appreciation of his services for the past year. Presentation was made by Dr. L. R. Houlette of Grand Island.

Dr. Gaylord J. James, assistant professor and lecturer on practice management at Western Reserve university, presented two papers at the Monday session. His first paper was on "The Ideal Dental Career."

"The practice of the profession of dentistry demands many things of each person so engaged," Dr. James said.

"The public is the recipient of scientific knowledge and treatment which has been laboriously accumulated through the many years of the dentist's professional training and the succeeding years of his practice experience."

Standards

"Each state... has its particular standards to which each man practicing within its borders must subscribe. As new developments take place in the profession these standards change accordingly making various methods obsolete."

"The alert practitioner must be a continuous student if he is to keep up to date and provide his patients with the most modern treatment available."

"There are other necessities of practice which the dentist must recognize and be able to deal with when the demand is made upon him. These are problems of office administration, directing the efforts of the personnel of the office, as well as the management of the treatment schedules for each patient under active treatment."

"After years of effort, and as a reward for faithful service to the public, professional men the country over should realize that since

DANIELS TURNS DOWN HIGH POST

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Friends of Jonathan Daniels said today he has declined the post of secretary of the navy.

They said Daniels, editor of the Raleigh (N. C.) News and Observer, reached that decision after a week end conference with Secretary of Defense Johnson.

President Truman previously had said Daniels was under consideration to succeed John L. Sullivan, who resigned in a huff after Johnson ordered work halted on the navy's projected super-carrier.

'Vote Of Confidence' Asked For Lease Holding Senators

... Senator Hern Offers Resolution

Senator Hern of Chadron Monday offered a resolution extending the legislature's "vote of confidence" to members holding school land leases.

The attorney general held last week that a person who continues to hold such a lease is disqualified from sitting in the legislature.

There were five—Senators Burnham, Cardomy, Hanna, Hoyt and Nelson. All but Hanna now have applied to transfer their leases to their wives.

Hern's resolution noted that a question of constitutional law had arisen because some of the legislators held school land leases. The resolution said the members who are parties to the leases have been "loyal and faithful" and their "integrity has been of the highest."

A vote on the resolution is expected later in the week.

Blockade Lift Order Is Issued

... Moscow Radio Says

LONDON — (AP) — Moscow radio said tonight the Russian zone commander "has issued an order restoring transport, trade and communications services in Berlin."

The order, signed by Gen. V. I. Chuikov, lifts the blockade at 12:01 a. m. Thursday, the broadcast said.

The Soviet monitor said reception from Moscow was poor and it would take some time to decipher details of the order.

The western allies will start their traffic moving into the eastern zone at that moment. British transportation experts announced in Berlin. Under a four-power agreement reached in New York, the blockade is being lifted Thursday and a meeting of the four-power council of foreign ministers will be held in Paris May 23 to discuss the future of Germany as a whole.

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Adam Gies, Lincoln; three sisters, Miss Katherine Gies, Lincoln; Mrs. Marie Wennersten, Independence, Mo.; and Lorraine Crespy, Chicago, Ill., and one brother, Robert A., in the army.

Woman, 88, Shoots Teen-Ager Picking Mother's Day Flowers

DETROIT — (AP) — "I guess I'm a good shot," said a sharp-eyed 88-year-old spinster today. Ragged and unkempt, Miss Emma Arnold waited in jail while police investigated the shooting of a youth in her weed-grown yard late yesterday.

The youth, Donald Walsh, 15, and seven other teen-agers were picking Mother's day bouquets. They thought Miss Arnold's tumble-down home was deserted.

A shot cracked and young Walsh slumped to the ground, a bullet just below his heart.

Early today he was in critical condition at a local hospital. Lt. Ronald La Rue, who went to arrest Miss Arnold, faced a .38-caliber revolver. He said Miss Arnold threatened him.

He advanced, however, and took the gun away from the woman, he said.

Miss Arnold was arrested for investigation of felonious use of a deadly weapon.

Officers soon identified her as the aged woman who had repelled four young war veterans from her property two years ago, wounding two of them slightly.

La Rue described Miss Arnold as a "rugged old hen." She had not been out of her house for three years. Neighbors brought food to her.

COMMUNISTS ARE OUTVOTED

... New Republic To Be Unarmed; Pledged To Peace

BONN, Germany — (AP) — The Germans at last have the constitution for a new west German republic—democratic, unarmed and pledged to peace.

Today it is being rushed to western zone military governors for final approval. The 11 west German states' legislatures must ratify it yet, too.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor, said he is trying to arrange a quick meeting of the military governors to approve the new constitution.

"It probably will be May 12," he said. That is the date the Berlin blockade is scheduled to be lifted.

Opposition Loses, 53-12

Despite opposition from states' rights, some centrists and the communists, the German constitutional convention approved it, 53 to 12, last night.

German democracy was reborn—on paper, at least—four years to the day after Nazi Germany hopelessly conceded defeat.

The constitution leaves the door open for the Russian zone to join the new state—if free elections take place in Soviet-controlled east Germany.

The four-power council of foreign ministers will discuss the German question generally in Paris May 23. Free elections might be planned there.

An 8-Month Job

However, at present German communists say they are proceeding with an "all-German government" in the Russian zone. They have insisted on a united Germany and opposed a western state.

The constitutional convention took eight months to draft the 146-article constitution.

Not mentioned in the final document were the reservations which the U. S., British and French made at Washington April 8 when they agreed to the proposed republic.

These are believed to include control over basic relations between Germany and the outside world as well as security against a revival of German militarism.

Each of the three western powers would terminate military government and appoint a high commissioner. The three high commissioners would be the top authority in Germany.

Historic Changeover

The fundamental law of west Germany, as set up by the new constitution, marks an historic changeover to democracy, however.

1. Calls for a democratic federal republic to govern the western zone's 16,000,000 inhabitants until a government can be formed for all Germany.

2. Paves the way for general parliamentary elections in the three western zones. It is hoped the new government can take office July 15.

3. Makes the plotting of aggressive war a punishable offense. There is no provision for an army. No one—not the president nor parliament—has power to declare war.

4. Guarantees religious, racial, linguistic and religious equality. Freedom of press, religion and assembly is pledged. Censorship is forbidden.

5. The death penalty is forbidden—in the land where the headman's ax, the hangman's noose and concentration camp guard's bludgeon took countless lives during the Nazi era.

The new federal government—like America's—will have only such powers as are not reserved by the states.

Girl Mauled To Death By A Caged Lion

NELSPRUIT, South Africa — (AP) — While her parents watched in helpless horror an 11-year-old girl was mauled to death by a caged lion yesterday.

Young Marie Vandermere and a playmate went to watch the lions while Marie's parents had tea at a table nearby.

The captive lion lunged at them. He caught Marie by the waist and pulled her through the bars into the cage.

As onlookers watched, the lion's mate played with the child's body as it would a toy.

The badly mutilated body was recovered only after both the lion and his mate were shot.

Petitions Ask Council To Delay Naming Of Directors

Petitions urging the council to withhold the appointment of city directors until new members of the city law body have determined whether appointees are "willing to carry out expressed will of voters" were offered Monday by Forest Hutson, Belmont grocer.

The petitions request the new council installed Monday afternoon to withhold "appointment of all directors and officers to perform city functions." The petitions want the appointments withheld until:

(1) The council has advised the people of the offices to be filled and proposed appointees; (2) Until ample time has

EAST AND WEST GERMANY ARE AGREED ON FLAG

BONN — (INS) — Eastern and western Germany are in agreement on a flag.

Last night, the Bonn constituent assembly, after approving a constitution for a west German republic, voted 49-1 in favor of the old black, red and gold flag of the pre-Hitler Weimar republic. The communist-run "people's council" of the Soviet zone has likewise adopted the Weimar flag.

—Reorganization—

Speed Is Asked By Truman

... In Special Message

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman today urged congress to act speedily on a bill giving him power to reorganize the executive branches of the government.

In a special message sent to the house and senate, Mr. Truman said the legislation should be enacted soon if any reorganization proposals are to be submitted to this session of congress.

Mr. Truman called attention to the fact that the bill requires that any reorganization plan he submits must be before congress 60 days without being disapproved by the house or senate to become effective. His message said:

"Because of this 60-day waiting period the bill should be enacted soon if any reorganization plans are to be submitted to the present session of congress."

The house already has passed the measure giving the president power to undertake reorganization of the executive branch. It is now awaiting senate action.

Labor Bill, Atlantic Pact Decision Up To Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senate Majority Leader Lucas (D-Ill.) said today that no decision has been reached as to whether the senate will take up the administration labor bill or the North Atlantic pact first.

Both matters are expected to take up considerable time. Leg-

Auditorium Construction Delay Asked

... To Determine Site

C. M. Pierson, Lincoln attorney, urged the city council Monday not to take action on the construction of a city auditorium until the city planning commission has had a chance to present an over-all picture of the project. He appeared at the council meeting Monday afternoon.

He cited the proposed city-county building and the city auditorium as two of the most important projects to come before the council this year because of the sums of money involved in each. Pierson said if the city planning commission does not select the proposed site at Fifteenth and N streets as a location for the new auditorium, the matter of a site should be put to a vote of the people.

He cited either the Rogers tract at Thirty-third and O, or the Antelope tract as two good locations. Pierson also made a counter suggestion of erecting a convention building in a downtown location for convenience and in addition constructing another building to house youth activities in another part of town.

He urged the city council to withhold the appointment of city directors until new members of the city law body have determined whether appointees are "willing to carry out expressed will of voters" were offered Monday by Forest Hutson, Belmont grocer.

The petitions request the new council installed Monday afternoon to withhold "appointment of all directors and officers to perform city functions." The petitions want the appointments withheld until:

Mediation Refused By Ford

... As Strike Spreads

DETROIT—(AP)—The United Auto Workers (CIO) proposed to the Ford Motor Co. that negotiations for settlement of a strike of 65,000 Ford workers be reopened tomorrow.

UAW President Walter Reuther sought resumption of peace talks in a letter he said was delivered to President Henry Ford II of the company at 1:45 p. m. (CST) today.

DETROIT—(AP)—Ford Motor Co. refused outside offers of mediation today as effects of the five-day strike spread from coast to coast.

The company held to its position that the speed-up dispute should be arbitrated by an expert selected by the company and union. The CIO United Auto Workers have rejected this suggestion.

With prospects for an early settlement of the 65,000-man walk-out growing dimmer, the union staged a mass demonstration Sunday. It was partly to arouse enthusiasm among strikers, partly to put on a show of strength, the union said.

UAW President Walter Reuther led the parade of 5,000 unionists. Mayor Orville Hubbard of Dearborn, where the giant Rouge plant is situated, marched, too.

Bugas Says "No."

One of the offers of mediation came from Hubbard. The UAW said it would attend a meeting suggested by the mayor. Another offer was made by Acting Mayor George Edwards of Detroit, who tendered the use of this city's labor mediation committee.

Rejection of both was set forth in a statement from John S. Bugas, vice president in charge of industrial relations.

"This is a company-union dispute," Bugas said. "There is no issue in the current strike which cannot be quickly, promptly and peaceably handled by established procedure."

"Therefore, we see no need to turn the matter over to other individuals or groups outside the contract machinery."

Iowa Officers Recapture Carr

CLEVELAND—(AP)—Melvin C. Carr, sought after he fled from Nebraska while on bond on a kidnapping and rape charge, was in custody of federal officers today.

Ray J. Abbaticchio, special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said Carr, who was using the name of John W. Marshall, gave up readily when agents located him in an east side house yesterday.

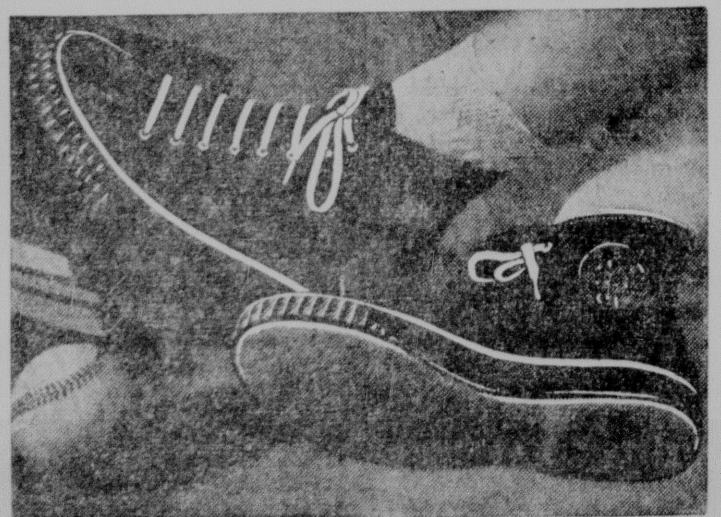

The agent said Carr allegedly picked up a hitch-hiking Youngstown, O., couple near Peoria, Ill., Oct. 28, 1947, took them to a lonely road near Bushnell, Neb., handcuffed the man to a trailer and raped the woman.

Arrested at Rock Springs, Wyo., Carr was taken to Kimball, Neb., and charged with rape and kidnapping. He fled after being released on $3,000 bond, Abbaticchio said.

Carr also was being sought by the FBI on a charge of violating the national motor vehicle theft act by selling an automobile in Columbus, O., on Nov. 26, 1948. The FBI agent said Carr had rented the car in Millvale, Pa.

Postoffice Clerks Name Pearre Head Salary Increase Favored By Group

GRAND ISLAND, Neb.—(AP)—The Nebraska post office clerks have selected Omaha for the 1950 convention and named James D. Pearre of Scottsbluff as president.

Both actions were taken at the annual convention which ended Saturday.

A resolution favoring a $650 salary increase for all regular and substitute clerks was one of several passed by the federation. Another favored credit to World War II veterans for time in service.

Ask Shorter Work Week.

Other resolutions called for increased compensation for on-the-job injuries; longer vacation and sick leave; liberalizing amendment to the retirement act, and extension of shorter work week and other benefits to all post office employees.

Other officers elected by the group included Charles L. Tracy, Pawnee City, first vice president; Francis A. Dawson, North Platte, second vice president; Harold Wagner, Hastings, third vice president; John W. Drueker, Bayard, fourth vice president; O. D. Gilpin, Grand Island, fifth vice president; K. N. Chapman, Omaha, sixth vice president; Robert E. Driscoll, Scottsbluff, legislative chairman; A. E. Raney, Hastings, secretary-treasurer, and Rudolph Anderson, Lincoln, editor Nebraska Postal Clerk.

3-Year-Old Carol Hull Dies In Fire

... Of Oregon Home

A three-year-old former Lincoln girl died in a fire that swept her home, Boring, Ore., home Friday night, despite desperate efforts of her older sister to save her.

Carol Ann Hull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hull, who moved from Lincoln two years ago, was trapped in a wind-fanned fire which burned the family home to the ground in about 15 minutes, according to word reaching relatives here.

Her older sister, Marles, 14, had aroused her parents after the smoke and flames awakened her and helped the other three sisters and a brother to safety, but was unable to find Carol Ann. Trapped by the fire that burned her hands, she had to jump from a second story window to safety. One of three sisters was also burned and is hospitalized.

Marles attended school in Bethany, where the family lived before moving to the west coast. Mr. Hull was employed by a Lincoln manufacturing firm.

Survivors include Carol Ann's immediate family; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hull, 3435 North Forty-eighth, and Mrs. Gertrude Johnson, 1635 Vine, of Lincoln.

Funeral services and burial will be Wednesday afternoon at Gresham, Ore.

FINED $101 ON DRIVING CHARGES

Vern F. Lutje, 38-year-old contractor, Kearney, Neb., Monday pleaded guilty to state charges of drunk and driving and driving without driver's license and was fined $100 on the first charge, $1 on the no-driver's license. The court suspended Lutje's driving license for six months.

According to state patrolmen, Lutje was arrested Sunday afternoon two miles south of Lincoln on Highway 77. The officers told the court Lutje's car was observed weaving across the road while headed in the direction of Lincoln.

250,000 DP's To Settle In Israel In 1949

Valerie Stone Tells Jewish Appeal Meet

The Nebraska State United Jewish Appeal conference was told Sunday by guest speaker Valerie Stone of New York that more than 250,000 Jewish refugees will go into Israel this year. The author-lecturer recently returned from a six-month tour of Europe and Palestine.

She is the wife of Stefan Heym, author of the best seller "Crusaders" who was originally scheduled to speak.

Between January 1 and April 16 a total of 98,961 refugees entered Palestine and are continuing to arrive at the rate of about 900 a day, she said.

Lack of Funds.

Mrs. Heym pointed out that a lack of funds is posing a tremendous problem in relation to finding adequate housing facilities for newcomers. Housing in the abandoned Arab quarters has been practically exhausted, she said, and some of the newest arrivals are living in tents. At present eight new temporary camps with a capacity of 16,000 are being built.

Israeli government has announced a four-year plan designed to aid in immigration of 800,000 Jews. The plan also includes placement, welfare aid, building, irrigation, citrus development, expansion of communications, social insurance program and more housing, the speaker said.

Leo Lania, editor of U.N. World, said that if DP workers were given "maximum support" every European DP camp could be emptied this year. He said there are 60,000 people "literally sitting on their baggage waiting to leave."

The conference was held in conjunction with a national campaign to raise $250,000,000 for Jewish refugee relief. The drive has been termed the largest philanthropic movement in history.

Cleveland Man Admits Killing Of 3

... In Street Brawl

CLEVELAND—(INS)—John Hrehov, 26, confessed to Cleveland police today that he stabbed three youths to death and critically wounded another with a trench knife in a street brawl yesterday.

Hrehov walked into central police headquarters and said: "I think you want me for those stabblings on Broadway."

He was carrying a lunch under his arm and said he didn't know he had killed the three youths until he "read it in the paper this morning."

Those killed in the fight were Clarence Kres, who was 24 yesterday, his brother, William, 21, and Robert Hrdy, 18. In poor condition at St. Alexis hospital with a wound in his back was Joseph Vales, 18.

Hrehov named a 24-year-old Joseph Posek as his accomplice. He told police the death weapon was in his home.

According to police, the fight started after Hrehov and Posek left a small restaurant. Before they had entered the restaurant, there was an exchange of words between them and the victims who were accompanied by Richard Kowalski, 21, and Edward Kretschmer, 19. A short battle inside the restaurant was quickly broken up by customers, who told police that Kres and Hrdy said, "We'll be ready for you. Come on out and we'll finish this," as they left.

Hrehov told police he had been to a Weiner roast earlier that evening and had used the knife to prepare the spread.

Lohrberg Heads Walther Leagues

The Associated Walther League of Lincoln held its annual election of officers Sunday afternoon at Trinity Lutheran church. New officers elected were:

Don Lohrberg, president; Bonnie Schmieding, vice president; Lois Koenig, Secretary; Donna Spomer, treasurer; Rev. J. Jacobson, pastoral advisor.

The group is planning a Walther League birthday banquet to be held Monday, May 23, at the Calvary auditorium.

Three Cities Seeking State Airport Funds

At least three cities will be represented at Tuesday's meeting of the state aeronautics commission to discuss improvements of municipal airports, James Ramsey, department director, said.

Representatives from Bassett, Neligh and Stuart-Atkinson are scheduled to appear to ask for state airport aid.

Woman Promises Suit On Vote Rights

CAIRO—(AP)—Mounira Thabet says she will sue the government unless Egyptian women are given the right to vote before the end of the year.

Miss Thabet, a pioneer Egyptian feminist leader, wants her sex enfranchised for the next elections. She did not explain in what manner she would bring her suit.

Indictment Waived By Hastings Man

Wilbur M. Finley, 51-year-old Hastings fireman, Monday morning waived indictment and consented to prosecution by information on a federal charge of sending through the mails to a woman a postcard bearing threatening and defamatory matter.

Further action in the case was delayed to give Finley's attorney time to become acquainted with the case. Federal Judge John W. Delehant appointed William K. Dalton as attorney for Finley.

The defendant was brought here Friday to face prosecution in the matter. The United States commissioner's complaint was filed against him in Grand Island.

'Limited Term' Change's Held Over For Study

Would Restrict Governor To One, Four-Year Term

Sen. Hugh Carson, Ord, Monday came up with a new plan for changes in state government, when he made a proposal that the governor and constitutional state officers be elected for a four year term instead of the present two years.

Sen. Carson's idea was set forth in a proposed amendment to LB 57, a measure pending before the legislature that would put on the next ballot a proposed constitutional amendment to change the term of legislators from two to four years. The Carson amendment was held over by the legislature for further study.

Election Every Four Years.

Also, under the Carson amendment, the governor would be eligible to serve only one four year term, and elected state constitutional officers would be limited to only two consecutive terms. Legislators would also be limited to only two consecutive terms, under the proposed amendment.

In discussing the amendment, Sen. Carson said in this manner a general state election would be necessary every four years, where one is now held every two years. This, he said, would result in a considerable reduction of election expense both for the state and for the counties.

"With the present two year term, state officers just get into office, get the seat warmed, and start campaigning for the next term," he stated.

Some objection was raised by members because they felt the additional changes, if incorporated into one unit, would make too large an issue for one ballot proposition. Sen. John McKnight, Auburn, expressed the opinion, however, that the bill would be drafted so that each change would be a separate question on the ballot.

Wilber Power Plant Generator Burns Out

(Special to The Star)

WILBER, Neb.—One of the generators in the F. J. Zwonechek power plant was destroyed by fire here Sunday afternoon.

The blaze, attributed to a short circuit, did not affect the town's power supply. The day operator at the plant discovered the fire and notified the local fire department. Damage has not been estimated.

DENTAL CONVENTION

the active years of practice cannot last indefinitely these later years must be provided for adequately so he will not become a charge of the community."

At the afternoon session, Dr. James addressed the convention on "Successful Practice Building." "The five phases of practice management founded upon the practice of professional business principles will produce the best results possible for each individual," he said.

Dr. James added that "he must define his success pattern to himself and give sincerity of purpose to its attainment."

Dr. Arnold B. Younger, director of the dental department, Richmond Freeman Memorial clinic, Children's Medical center of Dallas, Tex., also addressed the group on "Etiology and Pathology of Caries."

"The misconceptions of the causes and nature of dental decay have resulted in the failure to control the disease," he said. "Understanding of the nature of the disease may be obtained through knowledge of the tissues of which the tooth is constructed, and the proper interpretation of observations made in the microscopic study of the decayed area." "Such observations reveal the micro-organisms invade the organic structures of the enamel, which is the hard, outer surface of the tooth, and may reach and involve the dentine, which is the softer, inner structure of the tooth, through clinically intact enamel."

The annual banquet will be held Monday night with the members of the state legislature and their wives as guests. The main speaker will be Gov. Val Peterson.

Air Traffic Control Tower Is Obsolete

City's Share Of New One $25,000

The city will have to build a new traffic control tower at the airport.

The present wooden tower built by the army during the war has been declared obsolete, D. L. Erickson, public property and improvements director, told the council Monday. The Civil Aeronautics Administration requires the city to have a new tower by Nov. 1, 1950.

But more important, Erickson said, is the safety factor. The present tower is so rickety that the CAA has ordered its operators to vacate the tower whenever the wind velocity exceeds 30 miles per hour. The operators are employees of the CAA.

"What will a new one cost?" Erickson was asked. "About $50,000," he replied. "Half of the cost will be paid by the federal government leaving a $25,000 expense to the city."

Erickson wanted authorization to get a Lincoln architect to prepare plans for the tower. Asked why his department could not prepare the plans, Erickson said that since the department was in the midst of its construction season, it did not have the needed manpower.

The CAA has no standard set of plans for a tower, Erickson said. Each one must be designed to meet the particular needs of a field.

No action was taken.

C. D. Mothershead Dies Here At 80

C. D. Mothershead, 80, 4150 South Fifty-sixth street, died at a local hospital early Monday morning.

Mr. Mothershead was a member of the Federated church in College View.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Fred Scamell, Overland Park, Kan., and Mrs. Ida Davis, Bakersfield, Cal.; one brother, Frank, Los Angeles, Cal.; and several nieces and nephews including Mrs. Lila Boswell, Lincoln.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, 2 p. m., at the grave in the Talmage, Neb., cemetery. Rev. Charles Richter will officiate.

N.U. Dental Class Of 1924 Holds Reunion

The class of 1924 of the University of Nebraska dental college held a silver anniversary celebration Sunday night preceding the opening of the state dental association convention.

The group of 13 met for a dinner and class reunion at the Cornhusker hotel. Those present included Dr. L. D. Arnot, Lincoln; Dr. E. K. Bauman, Ravenna; Dr. E. F. Bay, Omaha; Dr. C. E. Burke, Bassett; Dr. P. F. Dodson, Beatrice; Dr. C. J. Henkelmann, Lincoln; Dr. D. W. Ireland, Cornsring, Ia.; Dr. A. W. Johannes, Schuyler; Dr. G. C. Smaha, Grand Island; Dr. L. J. Swabom, Scottsbluff; Dr. A. J. Thomson, Oberlin, Kas.; Dr. A. R. Transue, Lexington, and Dr. H. Ziegenbein, Wisconsin.

Hardy Campaign Expense $1,010

Philip S. Hardy spent $1,010.06 in his campaign for city council, according to a statement of campaign expenses filed with the election commissioner Monday.

He finished fourth in the election, with 6,829 votes.

Hardy listed all expenses as paid for advertisements in the Lincoln newspapers, for printing and to the Andrews Advertising company.

John Comstock, successful candidate for council, reported that he spent $317.44 in his campaign.

State Dental Assistants In Annual Meeting ... Exams Given 16

The thirty-first annual meeting of the Nebraska Dental Assistants' association opened Monday morning with 16 members of the group taking certification examinations at the University of Nebraska's college of dentistry.

The examination, both written and practical, was prepared by the association's certification board. The 16 examinees have completed a two-year study course outlined by the National Dental Assistants' association. Upon completion of the exam the women will hold the title of certified dental assistants.

Registration will begin Tuesday, 8 a. m., at the Capital hotel and the morning session will include an address by President Eva McGrew, Lincoln, delegates' reports and election of officers. At the afternoon meeting Dr. W. Clyde Davis, C. L. Veys and Dr. W. Wallace Webster, all of Lincoln, will be guest speakers. The banquet will be held at Cotner Terrace Tuesday evening.

Wednesday morning the group will meet at the Cornhusker hotel for clinic study. The conference will be highlighted by the capping ceremony of the certified dental assistants and installation of officers which will close the convention Wednesday afternoon.

Charles Johnson of Hastings, in Lincoln on business, who was taken ill suddenly Sunday evening at the Hotel Cornhusker, was reported in satisfactory condition Monday noon in Lincoln General hospital.

Dismiss Government's Suit Against Lincoln Tent, Awning Company

Federal Judge John W. Delehant Monday dismissed at defendant's costs the case of the United States against the Lincoln Tent and Awning company.

The action followed filing of a stipulation by the attorneys requesting the dismissal.

The United States had asked judgment for $1,400.50 for alleged failure to return or pay for war surplus materials which were in excess of those provided for in a 1942 purchase contract with the government.

Big Blizzard Cost To Date Is $197,690 ... For Nebraska

A total of $197,690 in state and federal funds had been expended as of April 30, in paying warrants for "Operation Snowbound," according to the state treasurer's monthly report Monday.

Slightly more than $1,000,000 was appropriated during the blizzard emergency in state and federal funds. Of the amount $500,000 was appropriated by the state legislature as a blizzard emergency fund.

According to the report, nearly a half million dollars in state fund money was invested in bonds during April. The investments included $200,000 for the veteran's aid fund and $225,000 for teacher's retirement.

State Treasurer Ed Gillette reported the state general fund balance increased only slightly during the month. At the end of April it stood at $2,637,112.

Authority To Build 874 Mile Electric Power Line Sought

The Twin Valleys Electric Membership association, Cambridge, Monday filed an application with the state railway commission asking authority to construct and operate 874 miles of electric transmission line.

According to the application, the line will be located in Harlan, Frontier, Gosper, Phelps, Red Willow and Furnas.

Meanwhile, the commission set for hearing on May 20 an application of the Eastern Nebraska Public Power district, Syracuse, to construct and operate 202 miles of line in Cass, Otoe, Lancaster, Johnson and Nemaha counties.

Dick Kline Gives Stellar Performance

Dick Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Kline, turned in a stellar performance in the Northeast high school operetta, "Meet Arizona," last week end.

The Star's reviewer concurs in the opinion of several Lincoln music educators that the Northeast senior exhibited exceptional voice talent as well as dramatic ability in the leading romantic role as Rennie.

Once again plaudits to the entire cast's fine performance.

SPRING FLOODS CAN BE PREVENTED

Spring floods were long accepted as a natural peril that must be endured. As a result, thousands of acres of rich top soil have been washed away.

Now, thanks to the Army Engineers, Agricultural Colleges and Conservation Agencies, the science of soil conservation has been developed. Information regarding terrace-building, dam-construction, gulley-filling, etc., is made available to all farmers.

Similarly, the methods and practices used by the most successful tavern operators are being sought out and supplied to all operators. Thus, the selling of beer is like that of any other commodity—in the public interest.

We're still seeing double when we check our record of telephone installations with requests for service. It seems that each time we complete an installation another order appears to take its place.
During the past year more than 8,800 telephones were installed or moved to new addresses in Lincoln. There are now 39,600 telephones in Lincoln, an all time peak and 1,800 more than a year ago.
In spite of this record growth, however, we were able to reduce our waiting list by only 32 orders in the last 12 months. We are still unable to obtain all of the dial switching equipment and cable that we need to fully meet the demand for service. At present 333 orders are on the "waiting list" for telephones.
Every effort is being made and will continue to be made to bring service as quickly as possible to everyone who desires it.

Donley Made Chief Engineer Of L. T. & T. Two Other Staff Changes Announced

Three important changes in its organization were announced Monday by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company. C. C. Donley was appointed chief engineer and L. P. Young as general traffic superintendent in the company's general offices in Lincoln.

C. C. DONLEY L. P. YOUNG
John Spady was named district manager of the western district with headquarters at Hastings. Mr. Donley succeeds Hiland H. Wheeler, who last month was elected vice president. He has been with the company for 40 years. Beginning his telephone career as a lineman in 1909 at Lincoln he subsequently acted as installer, switchboardman, and district inspector until he was made toll wire chief in 1920. He became chief engineer in 1922 and was advanced to assistant general traffic superintendent in 1937. In 1944 he became head of the department as general traffic superintendent. L. P. Young, district manager at Hastings since 1926, succeeds Mr. Donley as general traffic superintendent. He has been in the telephone business since 1907, starting as groundman with the York County Telephone company at York. He became assistant foreman of the Nebraska Telephone company at Grand Island in 1911 and joined the Lincoln company in 1912 as manager at Polk. In 1917 he moved to York as county commercial manager and in 1920 was with headquarters at Beatrice. He became district manager of the company's eastern district with offices at Nebraska City in 1922 and in 1926 moved to Hastings as district manager of the western district. Succeeding Mr. Young as district manager at Hastings is John Spady, who has been area commercial manager of the Hastings area since 1935. Mr. Spady began his telephone career at Hastings as a groundman in June, 1927, and held positions of lineman and combinationman in the plant department until 1929, when he was transferred to the commercial department as a solicitor. He became district salesman in 1930 with headquarters at Hastings and in 1934 was promoted to area commercial manager with offices at Sutton. He returned to Hastings in 1935 as area commercial manager.

Lady Nearly Choked While Lying In Bed-- Due To Stomach Gas

One lady said a few days ago that she used to be afraid to go to bed at night. She was swollen with stomach gas, which always got worse when she went to bed, and the gas would rise up in her throat after she lay down and would nearly choke her. She couldn't lie flat. Had to prop herself up on pillows. Recently this lady got INNER-AID and now says gas is gone, stomach feels fine, bowels are regular and she can go to bed and sleep soundly. INNER-AID contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get INNER-AID. Sold by all drug stores.

Five Officers Open R.O.T.C. Inspection Here

... A. N. U.

Five officers representing the field and air forces of the Department of Defense began a two-day inspection tour of the University of Nebraska Army and Air Force R.O.T.C. units.

The inspection, which covers all activities of the ROTC on the campus, will be climaxed with a regimental parade Tuesday at 1 p. m. west of the coliseum, open to the public.

Six awards will be presented: The Pershing Award, for the top military student in the Pershing Rifles, established in the will of the late General John Pershing, to be presented by Miss Mae Pershing, Lincoln, the General's sister; the Nebraska 40 and 8 award; the American Legion Auxiliary award; the Air Force Association award; and the Certificate of Proficiency to the ROTC unit on the basis of last year's inspection.

A year ago the University's ROTC was given a superior rating, highest possible award. Members of this year's inspection team are:

Field forces—Col. James P. Shumate, Topeka, Kas., executive of the Kansas military district; Major Paul D. Hays, second general staff school, Fort Riley, Kas.; and Capt. Raymond A. Schuler of the Kansas state college ROTC staff.

Air forces—Col. Louis P. Turner, headquarters, Tenth Air Force, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana; and Major Peter Deitch of the ROTC staff at Notre Dame university.

The inspection team will examine the University's Medical ROTC unit at the College of Medicine in Omaha on Wednesday.

Chapter 13

With the children scrubbed within an inch of their lives and all clad in their bright new bathing suits, Garrett and Felicity loaded them into Garrett's car and turned towards the Fleming place.

"I declare," said Ma Green at the entrance to the camp, where she was supervising the trimming of the "Turk's cap" hedge, "if you ain't the very picture of a family group! Mighty nice-looking family you've got there, Mr. Forbes."

"Thank you," said Garrett gravely, his eyes twinkling a little. "The wife and I like 'em."

Felicity told her startled heart to stop its nonsense and said gaily, "We might as well—we're stuck with 'em."

Susan was waiting for them when Garrett parked the car. She greeted them gaily, almost affectionately, and led the way down to the beach, saying to Garrett warmly, "I'm so glad you could come. I hope you won't be too bored."

"There's no danger of that," he assured her so firmly that Felicity set her teeth and warned her heart to behave itself.

A stiffly starched, almost terrifying competent looking nurse had the small Allan in charge. Two men in dark blue trousers and shirts that looked a little like uniforms were lounging a little to one side.

Allan, a sunburned, husky scrag in his absurd blue sun-suit, squealed with delight at the sight of Tippy, and Susan said, "Why, I do believe he remembers her."

"Sure he does," said Tippy composedly, holding out her hands to the baby, who squealed again. "On account of he's a very swell baby and we liked each other a lot."

Susan turned and called to the two bodyguards, who came forward immediately.

"Jim and Charlie, these are the Horne children," said Susan. "They are to play on the beach any time they like, and you are to teach them to swim."

"Sure, Mrs. Fleming," said the taller of the two young men, and grinned down at the eager children.

Jim and Charlie took the children away for their first swimming lessons, while Susan, Felicity and Garrett sat down in low-slung beach chairs and Susan proffered cigarettes. When Felicity refused, Susan's brows went up just a little and Felicity smiled.

"It's not that I disapprove. It's just that it's an item of expense I can avoid, and when I find one that's avoidable—I let it drop," said Felicity, cheerfully frank about the matter.

"Oh," said Susan as though startled that an expense so small should be worth the bother of avoiding.

There was a cheerful hail from the road and the man whom Felicity and Garrett remembered seeing the morning Tippy kidnapped the baby came towards them.

"Oh, it's Chal—he wasn't sure he could make it. I'm so glad he could," said Susan happily, and greeted the man with a look in her eyes that made Felicity stare a little. "Chal, dear, you remember Miss Horne and Mr. Forbes, Chalmers Thorpe, Felicity and Garrett."

The good-looking man chuckled. "I do, indeed." He shook hands with Garrett, adding, "It's nice to see you again."

"It's darned decent of you to think so," admitted Garrett almost grimly. "I still get cold shivers when I think of that day."

"She's quite a youngster, that Tippy," said Chalmers. "And quite a person, I should say."

"You don't know the half of it," said Garrett with deep conviction, and told them the story of his attempt at punishing her.

"The more I hear of Tippy, the Garrett said quickly, "If Mrs. Fleming—"

"Susan!" she interrupted him. Garrett nodded and went on. "If Susan really wants to adopt Tippy, Fliss, you can hardly stand in the child's way."

"But, Garry—be sensible! Denny would break his heart!"

"I'll take Denny, too. After all, twins ought to be a lot of fun. And the baby adores Tippy and will easily get accustomed to Denny," said Susan eagerly.

Lincoln Kresge Store Is Marking 50th Anniversary Firm's Founding

The S. S. Kresge store in Lincoln Monday joins with Kresge stores all over America and Canada in the beginning of a four-week observance of the 50th anniversary of the opening of the first store.

Sebastian S. Kresge, founder of the company, whose original ambition was to open a single variety store has lived to see the original store mushroom into 700 stores scattered throughout the two countries.

While he was a tinware salesman in New England, young Kresge conceived the idea of establishing a store where families with limited incomes could buy household necessities at moderate prices.

In partnership with J. G. McCrory, he set up the nation's first "dime store."

Still Active At 81.

Later the partnership was dissolved, and the Kresge policy was amended to include articles selling for more than 10 cents.

At 81, Kresge is still active as chairman of the board of his company. Stock is owned by more than 28,000 persons.

The Lincoln Kresge store was opened Nov. 22, 1913 at 1131 O. and moved to its present location at Twelfth and O, Sept. 21, 1940.

Lee Clifton, Retired Contractor, Dies

Lee Clifton, 73, 6336 Fremont street, a retired contractor and Lincoln resident for 35 years, died Sunday afternoon at a local hospital.

Born in Bowling Green, Mo., Mr. Clifton came to Nebraska about 50 years ago. He was a member of the Havelock Christian church.

Surviving are his wife, Jennie, and three sons, Charles R., Marshalltown, Ia., Thomas Lee and Quentin A., both of Hampton, Ia.

Barrel Warehouse Burns

KEOKUK, Ia.—(AP)—An early morning fire destroyed the Keokuk Barrel company's main warehouse here today. Damage was estimated at $75,000.

Fire Chief John Breheny said the blaze apparently broke out when a night watchman carried an open lantern past a barrel of inflammable fluid.

It's Thanks to You America ON THIS OUR

50th ANNIVERSARY

It has been fifty years since the opening of the first Kresge store. Time slips by rapidly when one is busy and making progress. That has been our experience since 1899. Progress requires cooperation and we fully realize that Kresge's position today is due to more than our own efforts. To the millions of individuals and thousands of firms with whom we have associated through the years we extend our sincere thanks. We are appreciative, too, of the many advantages we have enjoyed in this great land of opportunity. America's spirit of free enterprise—of equal opportunity for all—has nurtured us just as it has fostered countless other firms. So long as this American spirit of free enterprise shall prevail, we can look forward to tomorrow with the same deep pleasure and pride with which we look back today.

To you,

our customers

To the millions of thrifty men and women—yes, and children, too—who daily visit Kresge's stores, we express our genuine appreciation. Your acceptance of our efforts to provide dependable merchandise at low prices has made our progress possible. It will always be our aim to offer you the best of values and service . . . we want to continue to enjoy your confidence and patronage . . . our future progress depends upon you.

To you,

Kresge's happily makes this an occasion to acknowledge the splendid cooperation we have enjoyed from our suppliers large and small, new and old, some of whom have served us for over 40 years. Your service has indeed often extended "far beyond the line of duty". While providing the newest and best in merchandising for our customers, you have also often cooperated with our buyers in seeking ways of improving the values and selections to be found on our counters.

To you,

our employees

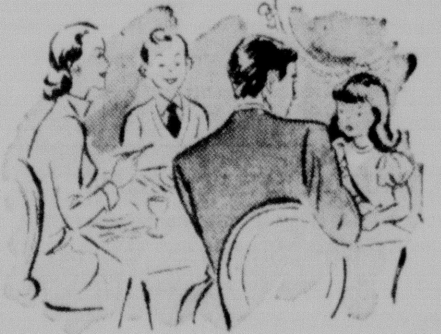

The Kresge Company is proud of the excellent teamwork and true loyalty of its 37,000 employees, more than 700 of whom have been members of the Kresge "family" for over 25 years. While this organization shows its social consciousness in such tangible benefits as group life insurance, retirement pensions, vacations with pay and cash awards for helpful suggestions, the Company takes this particular occasion to combine into one sincere, whole-hearted expression its 37,000 individual "thanks".

Beginning Tomorrow—A Month of Celebration Values

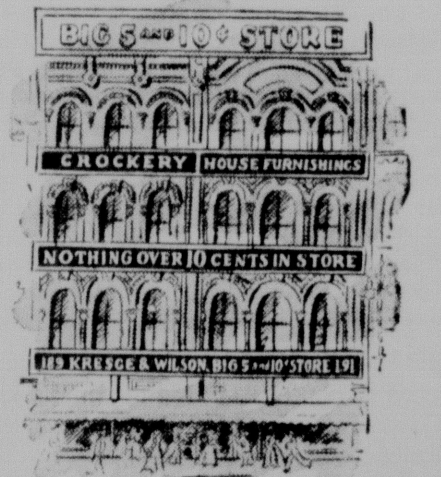

How far can a man go in this land of opportunity and free enterprise? Sebastian S. Kresge supplies part of the answer. He was born in 1867 on a small farm at Bald Mount, Pennsylvania, near the land on which his Swiss ancestors had settled long before. Mr. Kresge was a poor boy judged by worldly goods, but he had a wealth of vision and ambition. He foresaw a great future in the low-priced merchandise business. He was determined to make his dream a reality.

Mr. Kresge started in business on a very small scale. But 50 years can work miracles in the life of a man who has a definite aim in life and who has the determination to achieve it. Today, the name "Kresge" is a symbol of thrift to millions of men, women, and children. These shoppers find in Kresge stores countless articles of wearing apparel, and an almost endless variety of items of personal necessity and individual luxury, at surprisingly low "small-change" prices.

And home needs, too—worlds of them! In the smallest cottages or largest homes—in hamlet, town or great metropolis—you'll find Kresge merchandise in evidence in almost every room. Window shades and curtain rods—kitchenware and pillow cases—paints, hardware and "fix-up" items—the selection is always large and always up to date. Kresge values have brought added beauty, added comfort and added conveniences to homes throughout the land, at budget-aiding prices.

50 years ago Mr. Kresge was "tending counter" in his one store, located in Detroit. His stocks were extremely limited—needles, thread, buttons, pins and other notions goods, small items in tinware, wood-ware and crockery, and the other incidental things which he could secure to sell at ten cents or less. But the public liked his values and service. Business grew steadily; and as sales continued to increase, Mr. Kresge continued to add to his merchandise assortments. You can easily guess the result. Expansion was inevitable.

Kresge stores, distributed in the central and northeast section of the United States and from coast to coast in Canada, are stocked with a wonderland of intriguing values for all the family, for every home. Many of these Kresge stores are the largest and finest shopping centers of their kind. And the Kresge Company is constantly at work on plans to make each Kresge store the best in its community . . . with the best values, best selections and best service.

Not Even A Stepchild

The St. Louis Star-Times recalls that the Missouri Basin Inter-Agency committee has stoutly maintained that there is no need for a Missouri valley authority. The committee, it said, an unofficial group working with federal agencies on the Pick-Sloan plan for the basin, has insisted that none of the valley resources are being neglected.

It adds that Governor Val Peterson, a member of the committee, has charged flatly that public power is not getting the attention it deserves. At the latest committee meeting in Concordia, it quotes the governor saying:

"Some of the states are anxious about public power development . . . I have never even heard it discussed in this committee. What foundation are we going to have as members of this committee to discuss that plan when it comes up?"

The absence of discussion is not surprising. Missouri, Iowa, Kansas and South Dakota among the basin states have strong and powerful interests opposed to public power. In case of Missouri and Iowa their primary concern is flood control, and possibly water navigation.

Governor Peterson, who is a staunch advocate of the Pick-Sloan plan, nevertheless put his finger upon a weakness in it that has been apparent from the beginning. The army engineers have concentrated on the building of dams, the reclamation bureau on irrigation, with the generation of cheap electricity for which there is an acute growing need in all this region, out in the cold, a stepchild.

Most of us want the job done without loss of time, and are less concerned with the name under which Missouri basin development moves forward so long as it embodies the maximum benefits of river development. One of those is the tremendous amount of electricity which would be available to complete the job of rural electrification and to provide for new industry. There is a value to the frankness of the discussion injected by Governor Peterson. The obvious faults should be brought out in the open before it is too late or when nothing can be done about it.

Dwight Dalbey

Dwight S. Dalbey had been in ailing health for months and his death at his home in Beatrice over the week-end was not unexpected.

In a busy life involving supervision of extensive land holdings, including 5,800 acres in Gage and Pawnee counties in this state, and nearly a thousand acres in Illinois, Mr. Dalbey still found time to contribute a great deal to public service. He saw service in the legislature for three terms, was a speaker of the house. In the administration of Governor McMullen he acted as secretary of finance. But Mr. Dalbey's chief interest was in the soil. He conducted innumerable experiments, wrote extensively, some of his publications served as texts in colleges of agriculture. He was a pioneer in good road legislation. As a member of the Gage county board of supervisors he took the lead in advocating the construction of steel and concrete bridges.

A few years ago Mr. Dalbey gave the University of Nebraska a section of virgin prairie near Virginia, one of the few unbroken tracts in eastern Nebraska. It is now being utilized for a study of native grasses.

A thoughtful man, gentle and considerate, Mr. Dalbey's contributions to the state were many and varied.

"My Kingdom For A Horse"

Four cities in Nebraska may have a population of 20,000 or more people. They are the communities, it is to be anticipated which will be seriously affected by the bill under consideration by the Nebraska unicameral to abandon rent controls.

In the extension legislation passed by congress provision was made for either continuance or abandonment of controls, in the case of the latter by (a) action by the state; or (b) action by "any incorporated city, town or village upon receipt of a resolution by its governing body adopted and based upon the finding by such governing body following a public hearing."

Obviously, congress recognized that in many states conditions varied in rural and urban communities. It recognized there might be housing problems in the larger centers of population, not present in the smaller towns and villages.

The act itself specifically provided landlords shall receive a "fair net operating income." That has been interpreted to mean 25 to 30 per cent on rental units.

If a rental today is $40 a month, under the formula that has been adopted by the housing expediter the landlord would get an increase of not less than $10, possibly slightly more. That increase will be greater the higher the rental. The specific question before the legislature is the matter of home rule. It was pointed out in this column last week that both the mayor of Omaha and Lincoln had pleaded that the governing bodies of these two cities be given the opportunity to handle the matter of continuing controls through the local governing body, a plea which for some reason the Nebraska unicameral brushed aside. We think a great many of its members have not given a great deal of consideration to the conditions in Lincoln, Omaha, possibly in Grand Island or Hastings. No very good reason can be advanced why home rule should not apply to the rental controls in these communities, if they want it. If Mayor Glenn Cunningham and Mayor Clarence Mills cannot speak for Omaha and Lincoln, who can?

There is the spark for a lusty battle in Nebraska in the immediate months ahead if the rural members of the unicameral ignore the home rule option contained in the congressional action. Clearly the two options were established to meet exactly the situation which has been raised in the unicameral. We recognize that the landlord has his side, and in the face of mounting costs it has been slim pickings frequently. We also recognize that the renter has his own headache, and it is strictly a matter of fact whether a pocketbook under pressure today can be stretched indefinitely. For with controls abandoned the likelihood of re-establishing them is remote.

We question the wisdom of legislators who have no interest in the problems arising in the larger centers of population in Nebraska brushing aside the considered judgment of local governing bodies.

More to the point if the legislature is to act upon these matters, it should be farsighted enough at this time to make provisions where the local governing bodies may establish voluntary conciliating agencies to smooth out the differences between landlords and tenants. We have only to trudge back to the early '30s to recall that in a similar situation between lender and borrower a great deal was accomplished in this manner. Creditor and debtor came in before these agencies and in a surprisingly large number of cases found it easy to come to an understanding, with full knowledge of the burdens confronting each one.

If the legislature will not heed the pleas of the spokesmen of local governing bodies in Omaha and in Lincoln, the least that it can do, it would seem, is to make some provision for conciliating the conflicting pocketbook interests of both parties. That system worked out very well slightly more than 15 years ago in this state and it could save a lot of headaches at this time.

ONE, TWO—AND OUT!

We are quite sure a lot of Nebraskans have become ruffled, properly so, by widespread reports of vote trading among the members of the present Nebraska unicameral. It is serious, if true. Equally unfortunate is any attempt to excuse vote-trading by blaming the legislative system. That is adding insult to injury.

There is nothing about the Nebraska unicameral to provide any foundation for vote trading, nothing in its nonpartisan feature, or in its limited membership of 43 members to provide a peg upon which any vote trader may hang his hat.

We are told that within the legislative chamber of Nebraska's beautiful state house there has been an orgy of vote trading. If true, it is said; if a bad guess no less. In this present congress we have just had two examples of vote-trading on issues of paramount importance. One occurred in the United States senate; the other in the house of representatives. One related to the struggle to amend senate rules to outlaw the age-old tradition of the filibuster. The other took place in the house in connection with proposed labor legislation. In each instance it was, using a polite word, a "coalition" of senate and house conservative republicans and Dixiecrats, or southern conservative democrats, that put over the bargain. It occurred in legislative bodies with a large membership—in the case of the senate 96 members; the house 435 members. It was, in substance, and practical effects, trading in a two-house legislative body, chosen on a partisan basis.

Did republicans and Dixiecrats shake hands to bind the deal? Did they talk things over in the comfort of a hotel room?

There is no perfect system. No form is any better or any worse than the men who comprise it. An attack upon a legislative body—one-house legislature or two-house—based upon the fact it is elected without regard to party labels or that it has 43, 96 or 435 members—is silly, childish.

If any man comes to Lincoln to trade votes with his fellow members in order to get his bill through he does not deserve the alibi that the fault rests with the system. The man who comes to Lincoln heart set on one piece of legislation, and yields to the temptation to trade votes though it means he must conform his conscience, will be sickened of his bargain. The man who goes to Washington in a partisan, two-house legislature, large in membership who trades right and left in order to get through something in which he is interested is no less unworthy.

Amazingly at the same time that a critic was taking a poke at the Nebraska unicameral, Roscoe Drummond, a shrewd and widely-recognized Washington observer, was writing this of the 81st congress—a two-house legislative assembly, large, cumbersome membership, elected on a partisan basis, steeped in politics:

"One fact which emerges clearly is that because of lack of a clear-cut, cohesive party responsibility, it is impossible for the voters to know that they are going to get what they think they are voting. The party platforms are often vague on vital issues, and where the platform is indolite, the intention of a considerable section of the party to live up to the platform is vague."

We have been all through that for more than 100 years. Where does it get us?

We think that both comment upon the Nebraska unicameral and Mr. Drummond's observation on congress overlooks one vital fact. People cannot change their thinking or habits except under the spur of grave emergencies. Neither system nor party responsibility will alter the necessity of thinking in terms of today. The fact is, partisanship is not so dear to the hearts of the people. Certain problems confront them. The people want them settled, and settled right. The voter does not give a rap except that legislation be weighed in terms of today.

OFF THE RECORD

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Biggest question mark in the minds of every diplomat is whether the Russians have merely got soft temporarily or have made a major policy shift toward long-term co-operation with the rest of the world.

No diplomat, to date, dares venture a definite answer. However, uncensored reports from Germany give one significant clue which may reveal part of the answer.

Recently the Russians have been getting advice from Rudolf Nadolny, former German ambassador to Russia. Nadolny is not a communist, is a German of Hungarian extraction, and a disciple of Bismarck, who always favored close co-operation between Germany and Russia.

Nadolny's advice to Moscow has been to cut out the diplomatic bluster, and talk softly to the West, while simultaneously strengthening Russian-German ties.

If Moscow extends the olive branch to Western Europe and the United States, Nadolny is reported to have advised, Western opinion will be lulled and congress will not appropriate full funds for the North Atlantic pact.

In addition, Nadolny also met with German leaders last month and gave them significant advice

PEARSON recalls the long spade work in connection with the formulation of a West German constitution of which announcement was made Monday, with Gen. Lucius Clay (above) playing a leading role.

that Germany's future lay with Russia. The way Nadolny sized it up was reported to be about as follows:

If there is peace, Russia can give far more to Germany than the allies for two reasons:

1. She controls Silesia and can return it.

2. Britain and the U.S.A. are hungry for markets. If there is no war this competition for markets will become keener, and Britain and the U.S.A. will keep Germany an agrarian state. Meanwhile Russia has ample markets in China and offers no competition to Germany.

If, on the other hand, there is war, Nadolny said he had positive assurances that Germany would be spared. The Red army, he promised, would advance either through Norway or Italy. Therefore, close German-Russian co-operation was essential.

Result was the stiff position taken by the western German leaders at Bonn, when they first turned down Gen. Lucius Clay's proposals for a western German state. It was only after the Big Three foreign ministers granted concessions that the western German charter of government finally was accepted.

Not since the holding-company fight of 1935, when the private utility lobby bombarded congress with telegrams signed with names taken from a telephone directory, has Capitol Hill been deluged with so many phony telegrams and letters as in the current drive against public housing.

One of the lobby's most ingenious schemes is being worked on California congressmen by an organization with the high-sounding name, "Committee for Home Protection." Congressmen may not realize it, but this is merely a front for the powerful National Association of Home Builders.

Its general chairman, Frederick C. Dockweiler, also happens to be general counsel of the Los Angeles Home Builders institute, while in the background is multimillionaire Fritz B. Burns, biggest west coast builder and former president of National Home Builders.

However, California congressmen would be even more amazed if they knew how the folks are being used by the "Committee for Home Protection." Here is how the lobby operates:

Committee agents approach citizens on the street, give them a "facts sheet," containing ten sample telegrams denouncing public housing legislation, and ask them to select one, copy it on a telegraph blank provided by the lobby's agent, and sign it.

When twenty such "canned" telegrams have been collected, they are sent to a member of congress. The latter assumes the telegrams are legitimate messages from the voters back home.

In addition to the "facts sheet," which lobby agents hand to the public, they also have an "instruction sheet," which they are very careful not to hand out. These confidential instructions are a dead giveaway. This is what they say:

"1. Select your prospect. Get a man who has absolutely no connection with the building or real estate business. This is a 'grass roots' campaign; so look for laborers, housewives, small-shop keepers—people in the middle- and lower-income brackets.

"2. Show your prospect your facts sheet.

"3. Ask him to write his message on a telegraph blank. Get him to select his favorite argument and state that in a maximum of 25 words. Included in this message should be a statement of his occupation or affiliation, such as: 'I am a bus driver,' 'I am a housewife,' 'I am a veteran,' etc.

"4. Get your prospect to sign his name and address. Getting both the name and address is very important. It proves to that congressman that this voter lives in his district. Also, it gives the campaign office (lobby headquarters) a double check, so that we can be sure the telegram is going to the right congressman.

"5. Send your telegram to the campaign office. Send your telegram, written in the prospect's own handwriting, immediately to Frederick C. Dockweiler, chairman, Committee for Home Protection, 672 West Washington Boulevard, Los Angeles 15. Here it will be checked and filed for delivery in Washington.

"Don't worry if neither you nor your prospect knows the name of his congressman. Our campaign office will check the address and see that it goes to the proper man. For your general information, the map reproduced on the reverse side of this sheet lists our southern California delegation."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

ARITHMETIC

I suppose countless parents have been bothered by a lad who didn't like to multiply, divide, subtract and so on.

Well, I know my father wondered why a son of his should be such a blunder with figures when so accurate was he.

He seemed greatly disappointed when my father said to him, "What's the sum of nine and three?"

And he said, "I don't know, but what art or trick they can get by saying: 'I don't like arithmetic!'"

Now there sits a little fellow who in much trying vainly to remember what's the sum of nine and three.

And his father and his mother wonder by what art or trick they can get by saying: "I don't like arithmetic!"

Cable Repair Is Eight-Month Job

MANILA — (AP) — The Commercial Pacific Cable Co., has completed the 8-month job of repairing its cable line at a point 450 miles east of Guam.

The repair project, at a depth of 3.4 miles, was one of the deepest ever accomplished, company officials said.

The break occurred last September on the rim of an extinct volcano that was not known to have existed when the cable was laid between Midway and Guam in 1903.

The repair ships Restorer and John W. Mackay, located the break and diverted the cable around the crater at a depth of 1.7 miles.

ONE LONE VOICE

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The Lincoln press will well remember last year when the writer stood alone in the fight against the slot machines. Not a person in the entire city lifted his voice to help, and no one ever accepted our invitation to appear with us before the city council or elsewhere in opposition to these devices. But now after the city election is over we find that many were up in arms against these machines. Why? Where were these folks last year?

ISAAC B. FLINT.

TRAFFIC JAM.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It was a pity that the members of our traffic commission could not have witnessed the constant traffic jams on O street. This is all due to the arrangement of the light system that Lincoln insists upon using. This outdated system allows you to drive across the North-South streets before the light turns red on that block. Why not have all the lights change at the same time and avoid the mess that occurred Thursday night? No wonder Lincoln has traffic problems—the traffic cannot move. Let's get out of low gear.

DRIVER.

NEBRASKA'S VIRTUES.

Tecumseh, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It occurs to me that if our Nebraska newspapers would devote as much space and printer's ink in extolling the virtues of Nebraska as they did in publicizing our blizzard disaster, they would be rendering our state a greater service. Thirty-four-foot snowdrifts, the loss of human life and livestock, the paralysis of rail and highway transportation and marooned families nearing starvation, is not the kind of advertising that will help recoup our lost population of 60,000 people. If that is good publicity, then the Pacific northwest is overlooking a bet in not cashing in on its recent earthquake. Believe me, Mr. Arthur C. Starz, we have the answer to your problem.

JOHN HICK.

USE OF THE HIGHWAYS

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The seven organizations, which dined 23 members of the legislature, proposed a formula for more funds for road construction by issuing a use stamp at $5 per automobile per year for two years, a small amount larger for trucks. This is just a myth compared to the use and destruction of our roads. The theory now is that the people who use the roads most should pay the most, but these seven groups did not do that. They proposed that the people that use the roads the least should pay the most. For those who use the roads the most, thousands of citizens in towns and on farms would pay the bill for those who use the roads most. Some cars never go on the state roads, but these seven organizations would have them pay their part for those who use the roads most. I doubt very much whether our senators will vote for the 7-group proposal. It is just putting the tax on those least able to pay.

NEW PRESENTATION.

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We Americans are a competitive people. Competition has brought progress in our economy. The electric light ended the reign of the gas lamp; the automobile ended the era of the horse and buggy. In politics competition has resulted in two political parties competing for their existence on fairly even terms. But since 1932 the democratic party has chalked up many victories, making the competition lopsided. The democratic party has made a good record during these years. The depression created under republican rule has been whipped; we have made broad social and economic reforms; we have won a great war and started the framework of a structure of lasting and just peace. Many GOP officers say the solution is to fire their advertising manager. They admit the product they have sold in the days of Mark Hanna, Harding and Hoover is just as good as ever, if they just had the right kind of advertising. But the shrewdest hucksters in advertising history could not have planned a campaign to keep the horse and buggy on top in competition with the auto.

ASSESSMENT TASK.

Lincoln, Neb.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — The ending of the Berlin blockade is certainly a cause for rejoicing, since it liquidates one of the most difficult and ticklish situations of this hair-trigger postwar era. But no one in authority has any illusions that it will mean a magical transformation in every department of U. S. A.—U. S. S. R. relations.

It is considered, rather to be a change in Soviet tactics. The Russians are realists in these matters. The blockade was a net loss for the Soviet Union since it was more costly for East Germany than for West Germany.

Marquis Childs

Therefore, the contest for control of Germany and Europe must be transferred to another field. Some hints of what that field will be have already come from the Soviets in Berlin. The Russians will strive for a unified Germany in which a German communist party will play a dominant and decisive part.

The fabulous airlift, which defeated the blockade, will not be dismantled entirely. Gradually reduced in scope, a nucleus will be kept that can be quickly built upon if and when another emergency arises.

The retirement of Gen. Lucius D. Clay, who has come through the fantastic perils of the Berlin controversy, will mean important changes in German policy. Above all, these changes will be on the economic side.

Clay has been at odds with officials of the European Co-operation administration. He has been criticized for failing to carry out the decartelization of German industry under official policy laid down by President Truman. In a recent interview Clay defended his economic assistants and rejected the criticism aimed at them by a special committee sent from the United States to survey the way in which decartelization had—or had not—been carried out.

Now it appears likely that a new team will take over. The belief here is that John J. McCloy, at present head of the International bank, has been persuaded to become the first civilian administrator of the U. S. zone in Germany.

This is not an assignment that any sane man would seek out. It is as full of pitfalls as a roller coaster. But McCloy is a public-spirited citizen with a strong sense of duty.

He has a close and friendly relationship with Paul Hoffman, head of the European aid program. If McCloy goes to Germany, these two men could be expected to carry through a successful working partnership.

They have many similarities of temperament. Both are healthy extroverts who have, above all, a facility for getting along with people. Both men tend to apply the test of practicality to what they do. They both have a remarkable capacity for hard work.

In spite of repeated rumors that appear to have been planted, Hoffman has no intention of resigning at this time. Nor is there any indication that the president will ask him to resign.

If he followed his personal to March 10-April 20 inclusive—exactly 36 working days to do a tremendous job. We have a well qualified staff to assist in making this assessment, but without the fine help given by the newspapers in getting the information to the public, it would be extremely difficult to educate the taxpayers on their responsibility for filing their return within the time required by law. Especially at the latter end preference, Hoffman would go back to his business, which is making automobiles. Several times he has given the president an opportunity to say that it might be better if Hoffman resigned. The president has ignored the opportunity.

Hoffman feels that the next few months are critical for the recovery of Europe and especially with respect to France and Germany. He hopes to see a recovery program through that period, which would mean that he would not contemplate a change before the end of the year.

An interesting sidelight in this politically conscious town is that some influential democrats feel Hoffman, a republican, should be got out of the way because his success might build him up as a GOP candidate for 1952. There are even, it is said, ambitious republicans who feel the same way.

A third member of the team will be Averell Harriman, head of ECA in Europe. Harriman, often mentioned as a possible successor to Hoffman, is now in Washington conferring on future ECA policy. As ambassador to Moscow he had broad experience in the troubled field of east-west relations.

The best chance for communism to win domination in Germany, short of being imposed by Soviet arms, is in economic breakdown and chaos. The team of McCloy, Hoffman and Harriman will have unparalleled opportunity to contribute to a stable—and democratic—Europe and at the same time they will have one of the toughest tasks that could possibly be imagined.

Union College Crowns Courtesy King, Queen

Herluf Jensen, Glencoe, Minn., and Perle Lockert, Fort Dodge, Ia., both sophomores at Union college were crowned 1949 Courtesy King and Queen at coronation ceremonies in the school auditorium Sunday evening.

Ceremonies culminated a year-long program initiated by the student-staff council to make the campus more courteous conscious. Attendants were Versa Reed of Beloit, Kas.; Barbara Sauder, Ohio; Claude Chan, British Guiana, S. A.; Robert McCorkle, Roslyn, Wash.

Airplane Ride.

The 1949 king and queen, Bill Putnam and Bonnie Hunt, headed the procession followed by the 1949 royal couple attired in coronation robes. Little Janice Hooper was train bearer.

Gifts were presented the pair by various Lincoln and College View business houses and Monday evening the couple will be dinner guests of the Cornhusker. Following dinner an airplane ride has been scheduled for the entire party.

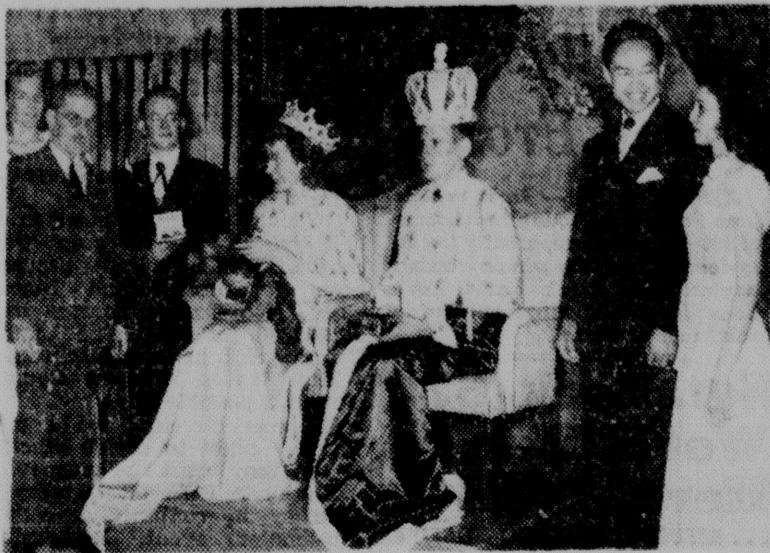

With Franklin Hudgins as master of ceremonies, a typical day in the "Land of Courtesy," culminating in the coronation, was depicted. Scenes represented early morning activities, business affairs, lunch time, afternoon garden scenes, and the coronation fair in the evening.

The program committee consisted of Ed Ortner, Harold Cherno, Kay Dixon, Virgil Logan, Mrs. Herbert Hohenes, and script writers Shirley Burton, John Griswell, Josephine Benton, Jack Sellers, and Betty Lou Williams.

The double mixed quartet which supplied mood music for the scenes included Frances Chamberlain, Anna L. Schander, Jean Bartling, Versa Reed, Herbert Knopp, Harold Luckey, Kenneth Arent, and Carroll Bushnell. Organists were Bob Pound and Melvin West. Decorations and properties were managed by John Hawkins, Herluf Jensen, Charles Reed, Dorothy Winn, and Mildred Pingenot.

NU Orchestra, Choral Union Score In "Elijah" Oratorio

BY MARY LOUISE BOEHM

The University Choral Union of more than 600 voices and the University orchestra under direction of Dr. Arthur Westbrook presented Mendelssohn's great oratorio, "Elijah," Sunday afternoon at the coliseum.

It was an exciting performance, convincing and dynamic throughout and proved again Dr. Westbrook's skill as a director and ability as a musician.

The Elijah is very much like an opera without costume or staging. Contrasts dramatic.

The many dramatic scenes such as "Baal, Hear and Answer" and "The Fire Descends from Heaven" were given intensity and sweep. Contrasting moods of calmness as "Cast Thy Burden Upon the Lord" were handled beautifully and with care in phrasing and detail.

Singing the role of Elijah, the prophet, was Dale Ganz, baritone. The role requires dramatic as well as vocal skill and it says much for Ganz who did some of his best work in Sunday's performance.

Elizabeth Farquhar, guest soloist, was outstanding as an artist. Notable was her aria, "Hear Ye, Israel."

Mary Barton, contralto, sang with ease and fluency. She has much poise for one so young. With proper guidance musically she can easily become an outstanding artist.

The finest singing of the afternoon was done by J. Dayton Smith, tenor. Not only was his voice carefully controlled, rich and vibrant, but he used it with skill and finesse. All of his solo arias were consistently sung, as far as both musicianship and voice production are concerned.

of the assessment period when the news items appeared in the press, we had an avalanche of mail. This is proof people do read the newspapers. People as a rule are fine in regard to their obligation as citizens to pay their proportionate share of taxes if it is properly explained to them. This office wishes that every individual in Lancaster county would read the article in the April Readers Digest entitled: "I Get My Money's Worth from Local Taxes." It makes one grateful that he may contribute and have a part in the maintenance of a good community. We do thank you for the fine consideration extended to this office during our recent drive to bring in all assessment schedules.

Cardinal Spellman: 'Boys Town Unequaled'

Dignitaries Dedicate 31 New Buildings

BOYS TOWN, Neb.—(AP)—A project begun by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan before his death a year ago, today stood as a monument to his vision and energy.

Thirty-four new buildings, designed to increase Boys Town's enrollment from 450 to 1,000, were dedicated yesterday by a group of high ranking churchmen, headed by Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

Denounces Communism.

In his dedication address, Cardinal Spellman denounced communism, declaring "the world faces the greatest crisis in the history of civilization."

"Between communism and democracy there can be no compromise," he said. "I believe that every true American, if he but realized the truth, would strive in love, loyalty and unity to defend our nation from communists."

Paying tribute to Father Flanagan, founder of the famous haven for homeless and neglected boys, Cardinal Spellman said "I have traveled all over the world and have never seen the equal of Boys Town."

Cardinal Spellman was honored last night at a dinner, after which he delivered a sermon at the annual University Sodality night candle service at Creighton university. Again he lashed out at communism.

Today he was to be guest of honor at a luncheon to be attended by business, professional and civic leaders. Cardinal Spellman will leave by train for St. Louis late today.

Estimates as to the number of persons who visited here during the afternoon ranged from 10,000 to 15,000. Even then, the size of the crowd was held down by gray skies and a cold wind which followed drenching rains which soaked the grounds during the morning.

In his dedicatory sermon the cardinal said:

"I know that Father Flanagan who planned and began this wondrous building program would wish us to pause at this time to renew and profess our pledge of patriotism to America—our great and God-blessed nation that gave to him and to all the generous, devoted, God-loving people who helped him, the inspiration and the means that made possible this glorious venture x x x .

"Today in no other country except in this democratic land of liberty could Boys Town and the city of little men be conceived and completed in an American way x x x .

"America is not immortal; our nation is no safer from the mastery of communism than was any European country where we witnessed the killing and enslavement of whole peoples by communists x x x .

"We must win and protect the peace," he declared. Earlier, Cardinal Spellman said that "in God alone dwells the power and promise of peace. In man alone abides the wit and will to seek or reject it."

Among the high ranking churchmen here for the dedication were Archbishop Henry P. Rohlfman of Dubuque, Ia., and Archbishop Gerald T. B. Bergan of Omaha.

Others were Bishop Edward Daly of St. Joseph, Mo.; Bishop Joseph Meyer of Sioux City, Ia.; and Bishop Louis Kuria of Lincoln.

Bishop Edward J. Hinkeler of Grand Island was ill and could not attend. Boys Town authorities said.

Among prominent laymen who attended the ceremonies were Mayor Glen Cunningham of Omaha and Governor Val Peterson.

Included in the buildings dedicated were a new high school trade school, auditorium-music hall, administration-welfare building, high school dining hall and recreation center, field house, 25 cottages each housing 20 boys of high school age, a reception center and a new power plant and laundry.

Warren Parker Lay Leader Of Warren Methodist Church

... Approve $9,000 Budget

Warren Methodist church adopted for the new year, 1949-50, a budget of $9,000, the largest in the history of the church, at its annual congregational meeting Sunday night.

Warren Parker was named lay leader at the church's annual election of officers.

Large gains in children's attendance in Sunday school were reported by C. W. Nibler. The superintendent also announced that three-fourths of the teachers above the primary department were men.

418 Members.

Rev. Virgil Anderson, pastor, told the congregation that 28 new members had been received during the past year. He gave the present church membership at 418.

Increase mission benevolences and growth in membership was reported by the Women's society. The number of members of the Evening circle has doubled, the organization said.

Accomplishments of the past year included installation of a new electronic organ, beginning of a month church paper, and rebuilding of the heat plant in Warren community house.

New Officials.

Other officers elected for coming year, are:

Dale Weese, official board president. Mrs. Harry Miller, recording secretary. Arden Sheriff, financial secretary. W. E. Lyness, treasurer. C. W. Nibler, Sunday school superintendent.

ON VACATION FOR LIFE!

How A. G. Blair
of North Scituate, R. I. retired from a salesman's job...

No more alarm clocks! No more long days on the road and only week-ends to call their own! These are things of the past for Arthur Blair, former wholesale grocery salesman. For the Blairs are taking life easy now... a goal they worked towards for 43 years.

Today they're living in their newly built cottage in the country, 10 miles from Providence, R. I., with their son and his family nearby.

How did Arthur and Annie Blair do it? How were they able to make a small weekly paycheck eventually add up to a vacation for life...?

Gay times with his grandchildren, Joan and Norman Blair, Jr., is a full-time hobby, now, for Arthur G. Blair.

"From the time we were married," Annie Blair tells Granddaughter Joan, "Grandad and I put something aside every month for retirement. It wasn't easy on what we made. But what we have now is worth far more than the tancy clothes and shows we passed up then!"

There'll be more than loafing in Mr. Blair's new life! With his son Norman he'll raise some chickens to help out Mrs. Blair's food budget of $18 a week.

Spring planting time will find the Blairs starting a family vegetable patch, too. Mr. Blair, 69, helped to landscape and paint new house. Even then it cost more than he'd expected. He got $8,500 from sale of the city house; saving paid for the rest.

Plenty of time for putting now! Workbench projects with Grandson Norman, Jr., provide inexpensive fun for both. Grandfather and Grandmother Blair spend $23 a month for recreation and car upkeep.

"This is the life!" say the Blairs. Time at last to read, relax, enjoy life. Plenty of peace of mind from here on. "We're proud of Mother and Dad," Norman says, "They stuck to their guns and did it all by themselves."

"Now that I've seen what it means to them, I've been talking with my life insurance agent about a retirement program for Lee and me."

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES AND THEIR AGENTS

The Blairs, like other American families, prove to all of us that the only way we really solve our problems is by our own efforts!

These stories of real families much like yours also show how much more success, how much more happiness is possible when you have peace of mind... the sort of peace of mind that comes from wise management of money now, and from knowing that future security has been adequately provided for.

The Life Insurance Companies and their Agents bring you these American family close-ups because what this country amounts to depends upon what happens to its homes!

INSTITUTE OF LIFE INSURANCE
60 East 42nd Street, New York 17, N. Y.

The Blairs get $180 every month. $44 from Social Security; $42 from investments; $94 from insurance.

(Distributed by International News Serv.)
We had one of the best Mother's day celebrations Sunday that we ever had . . . in fact some mothers were too tired Monday to get up and do the wash.

But the whole family was nice about it and suggested it could be done Monday night after supper, the dishes and the mending.

Father has his day a little later on . . . A decent interval elapses so that he can get the bills paid for Mother's day before he goes on the hook again for his.

It's really nice on Mother's day when the whole family gathers at home with their wives and husbands and children and Mom has eight extra places to set.

But some children won't let their mother do a thing on Mother's day that she hasn't gotten ready the day before.

And she has a whole year to rest up for the next one if she hasn't been worked to death by then.

Thomassen Is State Head Of Letter Carriers

Better Service, Not Higher Rates, Urged

OMAHA —(AP)—Elvin Thomassen of David City will head the Nebraska Letter Carriers association during the coming year. He was elected at the 5th annual convention here Sunday.

The auxiliary named Alice Snyder of Lexington as president. Other auxiliary officers are Laura Forney, Lincoln; Nora Robinson, Albion; Frieda Nielsen, Fremont; and Minnie Hall, Broken Bow.

The association also named as officers Roscoe Welch, Lincoln; Frances Eckhard, Seward; Ivan Hall, Omaha; James Davidson, Superior; George Dreglio, Auburn; Everett Gibbs, Grand Island; Howard Robinson, Albion; Joe Snyder, Lexington; Walter Fergus, Hastings; and Gordon Cooper, Norfolk.

Four resolutions were adopted by the association. They resolved that modern postal trucks are needed, that accident and death compensation would be liberalized, that the emphasis should be on better postal service rather than on a higher postal rate, and that the lowest four pay grades should be raised.

Parking Meters Net City $8,091

... During April

The city collected $8,091 from 1,037 parking meters in April, Finance Director Theo Berg reported Saturday. March collections totaled $7,994.

Of the $2,781.52 collected from 399 new meters, half, or $1,290.76, will be paid on the amount still owed on the meters. Of the $30,000 cost of 400 new meters purchased in January of 1948, but installed in March, $18,891.78 has been paid, leaving $11,108.22 still owed. Half of the receipts from the new meters each month is paid on this debt.

Collections from 638 old meters totaled $9,399.49 during April. Average collections from the old meters was $8.22 per meter and $6.97 from the new meters. The average collection per meter on all meters was $7.80 in April.

Except the half of collections from new meters which is paid on the amount still owed on them, all collections from parking meters goes to the police department, Berg said.

WEATHER BUREAU SUMMARY—The storm center over eastern Missouri on this map was over Oklahoma Sunday in its east-northeastward movement, attended by heavy rains north of the center, especially in southern Nebraska, where amounts ranging from 1 to 3 inches were fairly general. Rain was continuing early Monday in Missouri and extreme eastern Kansas but had ceased in Nebraska. Light to moderate showers occurred in the 24 hours ending early Monday in Arkansas, Tennessee, extreme eastern Texas, and the northern portions of Alabama and Mississippi. Warmer weather prevailed Sunday in Montana, Idaho, and the eastern portions of Washington and Oregon, with temperatures in the 80s, while the 50s and 60s were recorded in Nebraska. Readings in the 90s occurred in some southwestern border sections of the United States. Lowest temperatures Monday morning were in the 30s and 40s in North Dakota and mostly in the 40s in South Dakota and Nebraska, but with some readings in the upper 30s in the Nebraska panhandle.

Huskerville Line Hikes Round-Trip Fare To 40 Cents

A straight 20-cent one-way fare went into effect Monday on the Huskerville to Lincoln bus line. The new fare, which hikes the cost of a round trip fare from 25 to 40 cents, was announced today by Operator William A. Wagner, of the two-bus line. It operates on an hourly schedule from 6:30 a. m. to 12:30 a. m.

Wagner stated that the increase was necessary because "the line has been losing money." Meanwhile, officials at the state railway commission said today Wagner was within his rights to hike the rate.

Only if a complaint is filed will the commission officially pass on the increase, a spokesman for that office reported. He explained that the commission had adopted that policy on all bus companies operating between towns and cities in the state.

Highway No. 281 Group Organized

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state Monday by the Nebraska Chapter Highway No. 281 association, at O'Neill.

I CHANGED TO CAMELS YEARS AGO, DOLLY. THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A CAMEL FOR FLAVOR AND MILDNESS!

In a recent test of hundreds of people who smoked only Camels for 30 days, noted throat specialists, making weekly examinations, reported

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS

IT'S INTERESTING to note the findings of these noted throat specialists on Camel Mildness. But to you, as a smoker, it's even more interesting and more convincing to prove Camel Mildness for yourself...to make the Camel 30-Day Test!

That's exactly what thousands of smokers have been doing ever since these doctors' findings were first published. And smoker after smoker, by his own test, has changed to Camels...for mildness and for flavor!

Start your 30-Day Test, today in your "T-Zone." Then you'll know — first-hand — how mild and flavorful a cigarette can be!

Money-Back Guarantee!
Smoke Camels and test them in your own "T-Zone." T for taste, T for throat. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the best cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage. MARRIAGE OF Helen Jeanne Woodworth,
Theodore Lee Stancliff
SOLEMNIZED ON SATURDAY

A white reredos formed the background for the arrangements of white snapdragons and white stock, and the lighted cathedral candles which appointed the chancel of Westminster Presbyterian church for the marriage of Miss Helen Jeanne Woodworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Exell Woodworth, to Theodore Lee Stancliff, son of Evert Lee Stancliff of Los Angeles and the late Mrs. Stancliff, on Saturday afternoon, May 7. The lines of the 2 o'clock service were read by the Rev. John Douglas Clyde in the presence of one hundred and fifty guests. The wedding music was played by Miss Josephine Waddell, organist. Miss Waddell also accompanied John Kirsch who sang, "Because," "At Dawning," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Mary Lou Parkhurst, frocked in orchid-toned mar-quisette over matching taffeta, was the maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Jeanette Ann Smith, in pastel green marquisette over taffeta, and Miss Marilyn Smith in yellow marquisette and taffeta. The attendants' frocks were styled identically with off-shoulder bodices, framed with ruffled berthas, and full skirts. Double dust ruffles of marquisette completed the taffeta underslips. Each carried a bouquet of daisies reflecting the shade of her frock, and each wore a tiara of matching flowers in her hair.

George E. Lewis, Jr., served Mr. Stancliff as best man, and the ushers were Albert Burke, Omaha; Robert E. Lipps and Charles Woodworth, brother of the bride.

The candles were lighted by Joseph Wudi.

The bride appeared with her father who gave her in marriage. Her wedding gown of white marquisette over white taffeta was styled with an off-shoulder bodice contoured with a berthas of the marquisette ruffles edged with Chantilly lace. The long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists. Widened at the hipline, to accentuate the minute waist, the full skirt was fashioned with a back detail of marquisette ruffles and Chantilly lace to form a modified bustle from which they extended to the hem of the long train. The ruffle and lace motif was repeated as a border for the skirt. Her veil of bridal illusion was fingertip length, and was held to the head with a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and stephanotis.

At the reception, which was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony, the serving table, arranged with a white lace cloth, was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake encircled with yellow daisies and greenery. At either end of the table were three-branched candelabra containing tall white tapers. Assisting at the reception were Mrs. David Erickson, Miss Janet Erickson, Des Moines, Ia.; Mrs. Leo Anderson, Mrs. Mildred Hoppe, Omaha; Miss Joeline Beck, Miss Barbara Ann Polite, Miss Anne O'Hara, Miss Shirley Seright, Miss Ruth Hall, Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. Keith House, Mrs. Herbert W. Potter, Miss Carolyn Westervelt, and Miss Patricia King.

For the honeymoon trip to Kansas City, Mrs. Stancliff wore a navy blue dressmaker suit, with red accessories. Her going away corsage was fashioned of white orchids. Upon their return to Lincoln Mr. Stancliff and his bride will reside at 715 South Nineteenth street. Following the bridegroom's graduation from the University of Nebraska, the couple will go to Los Angeles to reside.

Mrs. Stancliff is a junior at the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Chi Omega sorority. Mr. Stancliff, a senior in the college business administration at Nebraska university, is a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. Among the out of town guests at the wedding was the bridegroom's father, E. L. Stancliff of Los Angeles.

Activities
Of Dental
Auxiliary

The annual meeting of the Nebraska Dental association Woman's Auxiliary will be held Tuesday afternoon following a 12:30 o'clock luncheon at Cotner Terrace. Presiding will be Mrs. J. G. Colgan of McCook, retiring president of the auxiliary.

During the luncheon, a skit, "If Men Played Cards as Women Do," will be presented by Sandy Levey, Al Borchmann, Milt Hoffman and Mike Shanahan, and a reading, "The Waltz," by Dorothy Parker will be given by Miss Margaret Dutton. Miss Nancy Hovey, Miss Barbara Bodenstener and Arnold Barback will present a group of dances.

In charge of the luncheon arrangements will be Mrs. Glen Johnston of Lincoln, who will be assisted by Mrs. Ben James, Mrs. Carol Brown, Mrs. W. W. Webster, Mrs. H. J. Zeig, Mrs. H. A. Capek and Mrs. Earl Lampshire, all of Lincoln, Mrs. C. R. Peterson of Osceola, Mrs. J. R. Lyons, Mrs. George Hageman and Mrs. M. P. Curryn, all of Omaha, Mrs. J. F. Shramek, Wilber, Mrs. R. C. Langfeldt, McCook, and Mrs. H. E. Hooker, Ainsworth.

Tuesday evening, a 6:30 o'clock dinner will be held for the auxiliary members at the Hotel Cornhusker, followed by an evening of bridge. The dinner committee will include: Mrs. F. G. Laymon of Lincoln, chairman; Mrs. Fred Thomas, Mrs. F. W. Albrecht, Mrs. H. J. Wegener, Mrs. Paul Kern and Mrs. William S. Kramer, all of Lincoln; Mrs. John Shafer, Aurora; Mrs. E. W. Parmenter, McCook; Mrs. D. A. Deines, Clay Center; Mrs. L. R. Aksami, Crete; Mrs. E. J. Horner, Milford; Mrs. L. C. Walsh and Mrs. Cecil Muller, Omaha.

Looking Both Ways

EACH WEEK THERE IS a brand new Monday, and usually it holds considerable news concerning the days ahead—Usually, also, there are some events of the week end carried over into the new week—This is one of those brand new Mondays, and it is not unusual in any way. We have news of the days ahead—and we have news of the past week end—

NOW THAT EVERYTHING has been explained and the past and present are on an equal footing—at least in today's column—we'll begin the day's work with last Saturday afternoon, and the tea, between the hours of 3 o'clock and 5 o'clock for which Mrs. L. R. Doyle and her daughter, Miss Mary Doyle were hostesses in honor of Mrs. John R. Doyle.

Tall tapers in branched holders, and a low arrangement of flowers in soft, pastel shades, appointed the refreshment table. Assisting at the tea were Mrs. George Holmes, Mrs. Alfred DuTeau, Mrs. Richard Kimball, Mrs. Paul Fitzgerald of Denver; Mrs. Edward Kelly of Los Angeles; Mrs. Richard Lilly, Mrs. Joseph W. Seacrest, Mrs. Fred Seacrest, Mrs. Allen O'Connor, Mrs. F. Pace Woods, Mrs. Richard Rogers, Mrs. Keith Walker, Miss Helen Hall, Mrs. Norman Yule, Mrs. James Edward M. Thomson, Miss Ann Crawford, Miss Rosemary Kimball, Miss Patty Wieland, Miss Martha Aitken, Mrs. John M. Miles and Mrs. Irving Chapin.

ANOTHER OF THE EVENTS on the Saturday calendar was the dinner for which Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Phillips were host and hostess at the Lincoln Country club, Saturday evening. Included in the guest list of seventy were Mr. and Mrs. Sam D. Whitman and Mr. and Mrs. James Conway of Hastings. Following dinner, tables were placed for bridge.

AND IT ALSO WAS on Saturday evening that the members of the Monday Night club held their last dinner dance of the season—A May day theme, introduced with Maypoles, garden flowers, and May baskets, was featured in all of the appointments for the tables.

Guests at the party included Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Souder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flansburg, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Junge, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Hillyer, Miss Peggy Krautz, Commander and Mrs. R. N. Nickelson, Mr. and Mrs. Max Roper, Mr. and Mrs. Hale McCown, Miss Jean Dickenson, C. B. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carson and Dr. and Mrs. Richard Paul.

ANOTHER INTERESTING event on the Saturday calendar was the Mother's day luncheon for which six members of the young group were hostesses at the home of Mrs. William L. Beachly. The hostesses, in addition to Mrs. Beachly, included Mrs. Harold Bookstrom, Mrs. Jack Pace, Mrs. Ralph Ludwick, jr., Mrs. George Peterman, and Miss Ruth Louise Dierks. The guest list included Mrs. William C. Beachly, Mrs. H. C. Mardis, Mrs. C. C. Goodwin, Mrs. Blanche Taves, Mrs. I. E. O. Pace, and Mrs. Edward H. Dierks.

WE'RE SLIPPING IN some important news that happened last Friday, too—the meeting of the members of the Nebraska Art association on Friday morning at Morrill hall for the purpose of naming new officers and new members of the board. As far as the board members are concerned there were eight whose terms expired this year, and each of the eight was re-elected. They include Ted Butterfield, Mrs. A. R. Edmiston, Mrs. Lyle Holland, Mrs. Albert Speier, Mrs. M. E. Vance, Joseph Lotto, Sterling Mutz and Fred Wells. Mrs. E. J. Faulkner was re-elected to the presidency of the Nebraska Art association, and Mrs. Arnett Folsom was re-named as treasurer. The two newly elected officers are Fred Wells, vice president, and Mrs. Lyle Holland, secretary.

WE'VE STOPPED LOOKING backward now—at least for the time being, and are looking ahead—

It seems that the Alpha Xi Delta alumnae had planned a picnic for Tuesday, May 10—but it has been postponed until Wednesday, May 25—and it does not take too many guesses as to why—We took a look at the Old Farmer's Almanac just to see if the Alpha Xi Deltas made a good choice—They did.

OUR TOUR OF THE WEEK takes us, also, to the spring exhibit of the Lincoln Artists' Guild which began today and continues through Saturday—Hostesses for the exhibit during the week include:

Monday: morning, Mrs. Harry Flansburg; afternoon, Mrs. R. G. Gustavson.

Tuesday: morning, Mrs. Walter White; afternoon, Miss Blanche Gerten.

Wednesday: morning, Mrs. E. J. Faulkner; afternoon, Miss Marie Weesner.

Thursday: morning, Mrs. Arthur Westbrook; afternoon, Mrs. Arthur Raymond.

Friday: morning, Mrs. A. Q. Schimmel; afternoon, Mrs. Thomas C. Woods.

Saturday: morning, Mrs. Albert Speier; afternoon, Mrs. C. W. Alvord.

AND TOMORROW EVENING (Tuesday)—there is a meeting of the Garden club of Lincoln at Morrill hall—7:45 o'clock—a panel discussion—questions and answers—with Dr. C. C. Wiggins as moderator, will be the feature of the program.

And naturally, since there is a flower show coming up the first week-end in June, there was a talk of stem entries and flower storage—presented by Mrs. John Burley.

The program also will include the showing of kodochrome movies of his garden by E. G. Dittmer—and a display of seasonal flower arrangements.

TODAY'S NEWS PARADE ends with next Saturday and the Alpha Chi Omega alumnae luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. John Grainger, with the active chapter seniors as the honored guests. The program, "Paris," will be presented by Mrs. George Dinsdale, who spent several months in residence there.

The newly elected officers will preside at the Saturday meeting, and they are Mrs. L. L. Coryell, jr., president; Mrs. Nathan Holman, jr., vice-president; Mrs. Orville Manrose, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Orville Hanson, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Mowbray, treasurer, and Mrs. E. L. Peterson, finance chairman.

Delegates named to attend the sorority's national convention at Pasadena, Cal., which begins on June 21, are Mrs. Coryell and Mrs. Holman.

AROUND THE TOWN

Mrs. Albert Held will be hostess this evening to the members of Chapter DL of P.E.O. at the annual dinner of the group, to be held at 6 o'clock at her home, 3145 South Thirty-first street.

Members of the dinner committee will include Mrs. Adolph Wenke, Mrs. O. R. Martin, Mrs. H. F. Mattoon, Mrs. Larry Becker, Mrs. John Curtiss and Miss Grace Curley.

The regular meeting of the Camp Fire Girls Leaders association will be held this evening following a 6 o'clock covered dish supper to be held at the Camp Fire Girls cabin in Bethany park.

It is urged that at least one representative from each group be present as the business of the evening will feature discussions on the Grand Council Fire plans for the annual day camp, and registration for Camp Kiwanis.

Coffee hostesses will be Mrs. Ted Shultz, Mrs. George Ernst and Mrs. Ted Tebo.

The final meeting of the year for the members of Park P.T.A. will be held at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, in the little assembly room of the school. The newly elected officers of the unit will be installed following the business meeting.

Alumnae members of Kappa Delta will meet for a 7:30 o'clock dessert supper followed by an evening of bridge, on Tuesday evening. The affair will be held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Mohrman, 1924 Otoe.

A 6 o'clock picnic supper has been planned by the members of the Lancaster county Society of Medical Technologists to be held Tuesday evening at Irvingdale park. The committee in charge of arrangements will include Miss Julia Mallaly, Miss Hazel Erskine and Miss Helen Carveth.

During the regular semi-annual meeting of the Dental Laboratory association held in Lincoln Saturday and Sunday at the Capital hotel, a ladies' auxiliary was organized. The group will meet twice a year, and will have as its officers for the current year Mrs. Lew Kucera of Omaha, president; Mrs. Merle Childs of Council Bluffs, vice president; and Mrs. Arthur

Former Lincoln Girl To Be Bride

Announcement has been made of the engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Suzanne Sardeson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Sardeson of Erie, Pa., formerly of Lincoln, to Chief Pharmacist's Mate Charles Louis Watson of Norfolk, Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Watson of Louisville, Ky.

The wedding will be solemnized on Saturday, May 14, at Norfolk, Va.

Miss Sardeson, who is a niece of Mrs. H. F. Howland and a cousin of Mrs. Clarence Swanson and Miss Ruth Howland of Lincoln, is a former student of Casement junior college, Ormond Beach, Fla., and has been attending Mercyhurst college in New York City. During the war, she served as a member of the WAVES.

RUTH MARIE DeBAUFRE

Announcement is made today by Prof. and Mrs. William L. DeBaufre, of the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Marie, to Donald Harlan Morgan, son of Dr. and Mrs. Don H. Morgan of McCook.

The wedding will be an event of Sunday, August 21, and the ceremony will be solemnized at the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal.

Miss DeBaufre will be graduated in June from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

Mr. Morgan is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, and now is attending the University of Nebraska college of medicine in Omaha.

He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, and of Phi Rho Sigma, medical fraternity.

Riley PTA

The final meeting of the current year for the members of Riley P.T.A. was held last Friday evening at the school. Mrs. D. A. Keys presided at the business meeting, and a life membership in P.T.A. was presented to Mrs. Harold Rhoades.

The program theme, "American Music," was presented by the school pupils and included selections by the school orchestra the kindergarten orchestra directed by Mrs. Jean Hunt, Indian dances and music by pupils directed by Mrs. Anna D. Huestis and Miss Berenice Demuth, negro songs by fifth and sixth grade pupils of Mrs. June Johnson, and pioneer and western songs and dances by the entire school.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served with Mrs. Arden Sherf in charge of arrangements.

Christening Ceremony Sunday

WHEN SMALL FRANK WOODS PETERSEN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton F. Petersen, jr., of Omaha, was christened Sunday afternoon at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Woods, his devoted family attending the ceremony, included three great-grandmothers, and a great-grandfather.

Following the christening by the Rev. Raymond A. McConnell at 3:30 o'clock, there was an informal tea for the ceremony's guests, including only members of the families.

The above five of Lincoln women will be featured on a panel to present "Discussion Group Technique," at the state convention of the Nebraska League of Women Voters to be held in Omaha on Thursday and Friday of this week.

The purpose of the panel is to inform the delegates on the techniques used in League discussion groups. The panel will be led by Mrs. Gilbert S. Willey.

Mrs. Fritz Craig, state president of the league, will preside at the convention.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

MUGG, THE BOXER FINALLY DIGS UP A BONE. IN A FIT OF DISGUST SAM CATCHES IT AND THROWS IT INTO THE AIR.

THAT RATTLING NOISE ON THE TIN ROOF? WHAT?—AND LOOK! DIAMONDS

TRACY, THAT DOG WASN'T SO DUMB. YIP YIP!

A FORTUNE IN A HOLLOWED-OUT BEEF JOINT? NOW WHAT DO WE DO?

HONEYBELLE

WHY DO YOU EAT SO MUCH SPINACH??

MY MA SAYS THAT IF I DON'T—

I'LL GET TO LOOK JUST LIKE YOU!

RIP KIRBY

RIP I CAN NEVER FORGIVE MYSELF FOR DRIVING STUART BEAUMONT TO HIS DEATH!

HONEY, TRY NOT TO BLAME YOURSELF. THE WHOLE TRUTH OF THIS TRAGEDY HAS NOT YET BEEN TOLD... I MUST SEE DIXON AND HIS MOTHER..

IT'S MR. KIRBY, MA'AM...HE SAYS HE'S GOT TO SEE YOU RIGHT AWAY.

HAVE YOU NO RESPECT FOR A MOTHER'S GRIEF? INDEED I HAVE, MRS. BEAUMONT. I AM LEAVING AT ONCE... BUT IT IS VITALLY NECESSARY THAT DIXON COME WITH ME FOR A LITTLE WHILE...

JOE PALOOKA—

DON'T CALL KNOBBY A BUM...

YER BOTH BUMS?

LEEMY'S TH BEST MAN AN' HERE'S PROOF?

HEY, WHAT'S GOIN' ON... WHAT'S TH RIOT, LOU?

MARY WORTH

YOUR MOTHER AND YOUR NEW DADDY HAD LOOKED FORWARD TO HAVING THE NORMAN SISTERS FOR NEIGHBORS, DOWN!—THEY'LL BE DISAPPOINTED TO COME HOME AND FIND AN EMPTY HOUSE NEXT DOOR!

WHAT ARE YOU TALKING ABOUT, CHILD?

COME SEE!—YADIE WANT SIGN—DOWN FIND OLD ONE THAT FALL DOWN—PUT IT IN YADIE'S YARD!

DONALD DUCK—

WILL YOU DRIVE US OUT TO THE LAKE T' TRY OUT THE BIRCHBARK CANOE WE'VE MADE? IT'S TOO FAR TO CARRY IT!

SORRY, BOYS, NOT TODAY!

HOUSE NOT EMPTY, AUNT MAY!—FULL OF PEOPLE!

THE GUMPS—

OK, CHARLIE—YOU'D BETTER PACK YOUR BAG. YOU'RE GOING TO DO MORE FLYING THAN THE GREAT BILL ODOM...

I'M GOING TO TEACH YOU TO DIVE INTO HOLES LIKE A PRAIRIE DOG—AND REMEMBER, DON'T TRY TO ESCAPE. BECAUSE I'LL TAKE A CLUB AND DRIVE YOU BACK WHERE YOU BELONG...

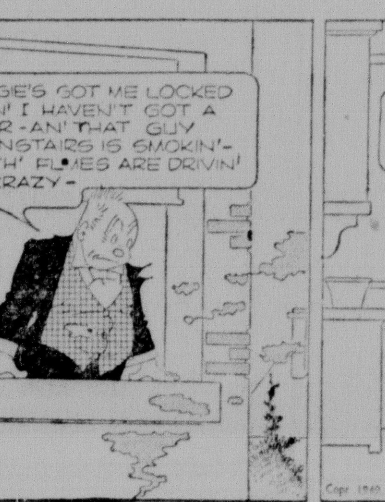

THIS IS GOING TO HURT YOU—BUT DON'T FORGET EVERY KNOCK IS A BOOST...

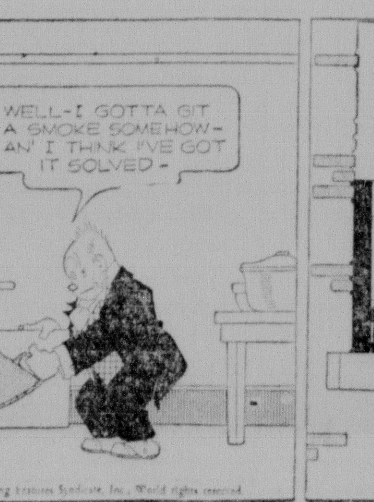

YOU AGAIN! I DEMAND TO KNOW WHO YOU ARE!—HM... I WONDER IF...

BRINGING UP FATHER—

MAGGIE'S GOT ME LOCKED IN AN I HAVEN'T GOT A COGAR AN' THAT GUY DOWNSTAIRS IS SMOKIN'—AN' TH' FLOES ARE DRIVIN' ME CRAZY—

Inmate Asks Writ—William J. Banks is seeking his release from the state penitentiary in a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed in District court. Banks' petition states he was sentenced from Keith county to five years in the penitentiary after pleading guilty to a no-fund check charge but that 30 minutes later he was recalled before the District Judge and given an additional five years. He charges he was denied counsel, did not understand the charge, and that the court lacked jurisdiction. Records at the penitentiary indicate Banks was sentenced to ten years on a no-fund check charge.

Socialism Hit By Pope Pius . . . Can't Solve Ills
VATICAN CITY—(AP)—Pope Pius XII has told Roman Catholics that socialism cannot be the answer to the world's economic ills.

The answer must be found in contracts between employers and workers which preserve the authority of the employer while providing for "the prosperity of all the members of the people," the pontiff said.

The pope spoke Saturday night to delegations of Catholic employers from France, Canada, Belgium, the Netherlands, England and Italy. The text of his speech, delivered in French, was released by the Vatican today.

There is no "irreducible clash of interests" between employers and employees, the pontiff declared. He quoted from an encyclical on labor and capital—Quadragesimo Anno—issued in 1931 by Pope Pius XI, which recommended "a public statute founded upon the community of responsibility among all those who take part in production."

The defense flatly denied the state's contention that Rutledge stabbed Hattman.

Claims Hattman Asked Money. Defense Attorney Walter J. Barngrover told the jury of nine men and three women that Hattman got Mrs. Rutledge drunk, seduced her, and then demanded money to leave her alone.

First, however, Hattman "who had already tasted of the rose and insisted on more," pursued "the remorse stricken" woman for 10 days, Barngrover said.

Barngrover asserted in addition that Hattman made a shocking and vile remark about the defendant's 23-year-old wife.

Intervenor
To Spur City
Into ActionIn Parking Suit,
Says Attorney Radke

A third party was preparing Monday to enter the "parallel vs. diagonal" parking fight on the side of city voters.

An intervenor supporting the new parking ordinance—return to diagonal parking in downtown area—will be filed in very near future, declared F. C. Radke, Lincoln attorney. He said the action will be filed for one of his clients.

A temporary restraining order halting the city from proceeding with its changeover from parallel to diagonal parking was issued in District court last week.

The order came as the result of a lawsuit filed by Robert L. Ferguson, who asked that the city be permanently enjoined from changing parking spaces from parallel back to diagonal.

Hearing Tuesday. A hearing, at which time the defendants will be asked to show cause why a temporary injunction should not be issued, is set for Tuesday, May 10.

Radke said Monday his client will fight to have the injunction denied. However, he was not certain he or his client would be at the hearing Tuesday.

In the event a temporary injunction is issued, then the intervenor would support action to have trial set for an early date and thus have the case decided on its merits, Radke said.

Radke pointed out that after one year following the approval of an initiative ordinance, the city council can repeal it under the state constitution.

Purpose of the intervenor would thus be to sustain the new parking ordinance and have it placed into effect before the one year expires.

Prior to the April 5 election, when voters approved the changeover, all of the defendants in the case named in the injunction suit had favored parallel parking.

Cedar Rapids Trial—
Rutledge
Assailed,
DefendedDoctor Is Pictured As Killer And Victim Of Man Who Seduced Wife

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia. —(AP)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge, Jr., was pictured alternately today as a blackmailing killer and as the victim of a man who "seduced" the physician's wife and then demanded a fee to leave her alone.

The conflicting assertions came as attorneys for both sides made opening statements in the 27-year-old pediatrician's first degree murder trial. He is charged with the knife-wound death of Byron C. Hattman, 29-year-old St. Louis aircraft specialist, in a hotel here last December.

The defense flatly denied the state's contention that Rutledge stabbed Hattman.

Claims Hattman Asked Money. Defense Attorney Walter J. Barngrover told the jury of nine men and three women that Hattman got Mrs. Rutledge drunk, seduced her, and then demanded money to leave her alone.

First, however, Hattman "who had already tasted of the rose and insisted on more," pursued "the remorse stricken" woman for 10 days, Barngrover said.

Watkins
Walks OutUtah Senator Says 'Tired
Of Being Humiliated' By Chairman Connally

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. Watkins (R-Utah) quit the North Atlantic pact hearings today, declaring he was "tired and tired of being humiliated" by Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee.

Watkins has been a persistent critic of the treaty. He has been permitted to question witnesses during the hearing, although he is not a committee member.

At the start of today's hearings, Watkins started to question Mrs. Kathryn H. Stone, spokeswoman for the U. S. League of Women Voters.

Connally objected that Watkins was "making a speech" in his framing of questions. The chairman had been critical of Watkins in other sessions also.

Watkins left without a word to Connally, but later told a reporter:

"I'm sick and tired of it. I don't intend to be embarrassed and humiliated by the chairman any longer. I'm through with the hearing and every further question I have to ask will be asked from the senate floor."

High Tribunal
Says: Try A
Lower Court

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Supreme court said in effect today that some lower court may have power to act in the case of an American civilian sentenced by an American military court in Tokyo.

The high tribunal's position was announced in a brief order denying Arthur Curtis Antrim Bush permission to file a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Supreme court.

The order said the permission was denied "without prejudice" to his right "to apply to any appropriate court that may have jurisdiction."

A writ of habeas corpus is a plea for a hearing on whether the person involved is being unlawfully held in custody.

Bush is serving a year's sentence imposed by a military court in Tokyo last Dec. 16 on charges that he illegally sold whisky and other goods to a Japanese. The sales were alleged to have been made while Bush was employed by the army in Tokyo. During the war Bush was a bombardier-navigator in the 20th air force.

Other Rulings. In other actions today, the court:

Denied a hearing to an employer who claimed a union used force and violence under cover of the national labor act in an attempt to drive him out of business at Harrodsburg, Ky.

Fred P. Weissman, a manufacturer of women's coats, appealed from a national labor relations board order to cease asserted unfair labor practices against the APT International Ladies' Garment Workers. The NLRB said it found evidence of such conduct related only to plants Weissman operated previously in Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg, Ind.

Set aside an immigration service order which barred Miss May Johnson, a Swedish woman, from the United States on the ground that she was "mentally defective." The court's 6 to 3 decision sent the case back to the District court in New York with instructions to order a "proper hearing and medical examination before the appropriate public health authorities."

ShanghaiRed Forces Reported
17 Miles From City;
Vehicles Commandeered

SHANGHAI—(AP)—Fighting around Kaiting brought the Chinese civil war to an area 17 miles northwest of the heart of Shanghai today.

Far to the southwest, communist armies pressed a twin-pronged offensive along an irregular 230-mile front. This operation extended from the seaport of Hangchow on the east to Lake Poyang on the west. At some places the red drive had carried 200 miles south of Yangtze.

A Shanghai garrison command communiqué seemed to indicate the fighting closest to Shanghai was on a small scale. Kaiting is on the Shanghai-Nanking highway seven miles north of the railway between the two cities. Red troops thrusting along the rail line were within 35 miles of Shanghai.

Americans Hard Hit. Inside this largest Asian city, the nationalist garrison ordered Chinese and foreign business firms and some government agencies to turn over 950 trucks and 300 jeeps for "military purposes."

Foreign consulates, including the American and British, were interceding to try to keep the garrison from commandeering the foreign vehicles. Many American and British firms were hard hit by the order. Some were engaged in essential activities.

The garrison order told owners to deliver the vehicles with drivers, spare tires and tools. Failure to obey, the order said, would be dealt with by law. Since Shanghai is under martial law, offenders could be executed.

The garrison did not give details of the significant communist operations southwest of Shanghai but said the communists were continuing their drive in Kiangsi and Chekiang provinces.

The communiqué did not mention Kaiting, the center of the Shanghai-Hangchow line 62 miles southwest of Shanghai. The Red radio at Peking claimed its capture Sunday night. At that time the nationalist garrison acknowledged all contact with Kaiting had been broken off and said Kaiting 10 miles nearer Shanghai, was being defended.

—Weather—
South Is Lashed By Wind, Hail
Widespread Damage In Oklahoma, Texas

CHICAGO—(AP)—A tornado, strong wind and hailstorms caused widespread property damage in Texas and Oklahoma over the weekend.

Extent of damage at Schuler, Okla., a town of 500 population which was hit by the tornado last night had not been determined but there were no reports of casualties.

The twister blew into the community then turned and retraced its course. Several farm buildings were known to have been destroyed but details were lacking because telephone lines into the town were ripped down.

18-Year-Old Drowned.
Field crops and fruit trees were damaged by an accompanying heavy hailstorm.

At Winters, Humphrey and Wingate, Tex., strong winds blew down wheat crops, leveled several farm buildings, and flattened power and telephone lines Saturday night.

An 18-year-old boy attempting to ford Moniteau creek near Clarksburg, Mo., was caught in a flash flood and drowned.

Scattered thunderstorms and showers were reported today in southern Iowa, Missouri, western Illinois, Arkansas and central Texas. Elsewhere skies generally were clear and temperatures around seasonal.

Husband Kills Wife, Other Man, Then Self
... In Love Triangle

SEATTLE—(INS)—Three persons were dead today as the aftermath of a double murder and suicide yesterday at a West Seattle home.

Victims were 30-year-old Otto Weidum, his attractive 28-year-old wife Wilma, and Frank D. Howe, 38.

Detectives said Weidum shot the other two in an apparent triangle and then turned the weapon on himself.

A tragic terse little note, obviously penned under duress by the wife on a piece of cardboard while awaiting her own fate, reads in part:

'Been Bad Girl.'

"Dear Mom:
"Ott says I should write you a note and say I have been a bad girl and I should pay with my life. This is Frank's pen and Ott says to use it. Ott says we're both very sorry this had to happen ... but that's life even if it is short. He says he loves Skip (the Weidums' 7-year-old son who was with her parents at Redmond, Wash.) and you and I very dearly ... If Frank shows up now he will be shot."

A mother's day card bearing the message: "Loads of Love" stood by a potted geranium in the living room where Mrs. Weidum lay in a chair with a bullet through her head.

Detectives said Weidum apparently shot Howe when he returned to the Weidum home after once being ejected. He then shot his wife and himself.

Truck Crash Kills 20
ISTANBUL, Turkey—(AP)—Twenty persons drowned yesterday when a truck plunged into a river near Binqol in eastern Turkey, press reports said.

The dispatches said the truck's brakes failed and the vehicle smashed through a bridge railing into the river.

Vets Have First Chance To Rent Converted Units

World war II veterans will have first chance at new housing units made available by conversion of existing dwellings and also prefabricated houses, Curry W. Watson, area rent director said today.

He said that under the new housing and rent act of 1949 all conversions in an existing dwelling completed after June 30, 1947, and prior to June 30, 1950, must be offered for sale or rent exclusively to veterans during conversion and for at least 30 days thereafter. In the event of re-sale or re-renting, veterans must be given preference for at least seven days, according to the law.

"This should be of special interest here in Lincoln to veterans wanting to rent, and the requirements should be noted by owners who convert existing structures to new rental units," Watson said.

He pointed out a person now serving in the nation's military or naval forces who requires housing accommodations for his family, is eligible for veterans' preference.

'Turtle' Lands At Lisbon In Historic Hop

Retracing First Atlantic Flight By NC-4 In 1919

LISBON, Portugal—(AP)—The Truculent Turtle landed at Lisbon airport today, retracing the historic 1919 flight of the NC-4. The navy bomber landed at 12:07 p. m. (5:07 a. m. CST).

The commemorative flight by the two-engined plane across the Atlantic was uneventful. The Turtle, which took off yesterday from Floyd Bennett field in New York, flew by way of Newfoundland and the Azores. The trip took 16 hours and 50 minutes.

The time was in sharp contrast to the 19 days it took the canvas and plywood NC-4 to make the trip 30 years ago. The NC-4 was the first plane to span the Atlantic.

Pilot of the Turtle, a Lockheed P2V-2 Neptune, was Cmdr. Thomas D. Davies of Chevy Chase, Md., who also commanded it on its 1946 record non-stop 11,236 mile hop from Perth, Australia, to Columbus, O.

Read Adm. Albert C. Reed, who piloted the NC-4 on its historic flight, and his flight mechanic, Chief Aviation Pilot Eugene S. (Smookey) Rhoads were passengers aboard the Turtle on the commemorative crossing.

From Lisbon the navy bomber will fly to Plymouth, Eng., where the NC-4 ended its flight. After that it will go to London and Paris before returning to Washington.

Iowa Plane Crash Kills Capt. Neff

OMAHA—(AP)—A plane crash two miles north of Thurman, Ia., has claimed the life of Capt. Warren H. Neff of St. Joseph, Mo., operations officer at Offutt air force base here.

Capt. Neff was killed late yesterday when his AT-6 training plane crashed while he was on an extended navigation training mission, Lt. Jared F. Harrison, Offutt public relations officer, said.

Capt. Neff was en route here from St. Joseph at the time of the crash.
